MAJOR SAYS McLEAN IS "EAGER" TO TAKE STAND

"He's Wired 200 Times He Would Testify," Confidential Man Tells Senators; "He's Gone as Far as He Could for a Friend, and for Nothing."

"SOCIAL" VISITS MADE TO SLEMP

Identifies "The Party" as Walsh and as Slemp; When Cornered, He Says "There's No Explanation," Bought a Code.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 11.—Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin has resigned as chairman and member of the Public Lands Committee, which is investigating the oil scandal.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 11.—After examining telegrams from three Rivers, N. M., the ranch agents of E. B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, none of the three Rivers telegrams read today proved to be relevant, Senators said, unless should be that those in code would have some bearing. Senator Walsh said McLean would be called before the committee tomorrow. All the employees of the Post have been examined by the committee staff in question E. W. Smithers, E. W. Starling and H. E. McKenna, who sent a message to McLean advising him that Secretary Slemp was leaving for Florida, was summoned today.

Three Rivers Conference.
Committee men said some of the three Rivers telegrams indicated that Harry E. Sinclair, his personal counsel, J. W. Zeveloff, Robert Stewart of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, and H. M. Blackmer of the Midwest Refining Co. had held a conference at Fall's ranch as early as 1921. There was nothing to show, they said, what the subject of the conference was. The Pioneer Oil Co., one of the companies whose interest in Teapot Dome was investigated by Sinclair, was a subsidiary of the Midwest company, which is a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana.

Those which passed were amendments No. 4, 8, 9, 13, 19 and 21. Number 19 is the amendment which would authorize a State bond issue of $4,600,000 to complete payment of the bonded bonds. No. 9 would increase the number of votes of State officials in impeachment proceedings from 12 to 23. No. 19 would enable the opening of ballot boxes in the investigation of election frauds and the use of ballots in evidence in the trial of election fraud cases. No. 18 would make the practice of nepotism by a public official ground for removal from office. No. 19 is the Kansas City improvement bond proposition and No. 21 is the schedule to put into effect those amendments which were adopted.

Under pressure of hard-hitting cross-examination Major explained more of the mysteries of the McLean telegrams. One of those referred to without name in the telegrams, he said, was C. Bascom Smith, with whom he declared he had returned from Florida and upon whom he had called several times since at Slemp's invitation. He stated the calls were "purely social."

The code word "eyed" the witness explained as referring to "E. Heister, attached to the office of the Washington publisher. He had been on one occasion had called him to come to the office and had indicated that "something" might be expected soon, but was heavy as to details. The mysterious "Willie" referred to repeatedly in the telegrams as having after McLean's interests finally was identified by Major as John J. Lambert, the publisher's secretary. McLean has been "eager" before the committee, Major said, and "ten 100 telegrams to his agents telling them he was coming irrespective of their."

PAINTER PAINTS AS TAILOR SEWS; NEITHER IS SUITED

So Tailor Appeals 50-50 Award and Is Ordered to Pay More Than He Received.

Mrs. J. W. Johnston of 5233 Garfield avenue, whose husband paints houses, wanted a smart tailor's suit in 1920, so she and her husband went to see J. White, ladies' tailor, of 1942 Semple avenue. White informed them that he made "Paris model clothes," $150 a suit. But he said he'd make a $350 Parisienne for Mrs. Johnston for $115.

About that time Johnston told White he was a good painter and wanted to know if White needed his place retouched. White said he did, so they agreed that White would make the suit and Johnston would work it out with a can of paint and a brush.

White made the suit and Johnston painted the house and then the trouble started. Mrs. Johnston said she didn't think the Paris model was a Paris model and White didn't think Johnston had done $115 worth of painting. White sued in a Justice of the Peace court for $115 and Johnston sued for $186.20. The Justice of the Peace heard it and decided that neither of them deserved anything.

White appealed the case, and it was heard yesterday in Circuit Judge Grimm's court. The jury allowed White $115. He also allowed Johnston his paint bill for $186.20. Making Johnston's 149 hours, at $1.25 an hour, worth $171.26 more than a Paris model's tailor's suit, 1920 model.

ONLY SIX CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

Votes Officially Canvassed by Secretary of State Show Fifteen Were Defeated.

Six of the 21 proposed constitutional amendments voted upon by people of Missouri at a special election held throughout the State Feb. 26 were adopted, according to a canvass of the vote made today at Jefferson City by Secretary of State Baker.

Those which passed were amendments No. 4, 8, 9, 13, 19 and 21. Number 19 is the amendment which would authorize a State bond issue of $4,600,000 to complete payment of the bonded bonds. VETERAN, DENIED AID HERE, FOUND IN A POORHOUSE

Milton Scott, Who Sought Entrance to City and Veterans' Hospitals Cared for at Belleville.

NO QUESTIONS ASKED BY ILLINOIS OFFICIALS

His Frozen Hands Improved—Legion Post Raising Funds to Send Him to Soldiers' Home.

Milton Scott, the wounded war veteran, who, penniless and with both hands frozen, applied 10 days ago at the City and the Veterans' hospitals here for treatment, only to be refused because there was no stretching of rules at those institutions, has found care at last—at the St. Clair County poorhouse.

Scott has been at the hospital of the County Farm at Belleville, since Thursday. His hands—the hands that held a rifle at Chateau Thierry until shrapnel tore off the man's nose and upper lip at the start of the Allies great counter offensive—are being treated by a physician daily.

No longer are they black and twice normal size. But they are still raw and ugly, and part of two fingers on the left hand are soon to be amputated.

The present trials of the man whom misfortune had already mutilated began late in February. Scott, a common laborer, none too hardy for trying work, was driving a six-mule team as a freighter between Bismarck and Jamestown, N. D. It was a bitter cold day, and the tight-cramped lines cut off the blood's circulation from his fingers. When he climbed down from his wagon at Bismarck, the hands were frozen.

He was being paid $5 a day when he worked, but he couldn't work with frozen hands. He knew there was a veterans' hospital at St. Louis, and "so I decided to go there—I never thought for a minute they wouldn't take me," he told a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday. "I got into the care 26 months I was in a Government hospital in France," he added simply.

Scott's funds consisted of $30, and he spent $27.60 for a ticket to St. Louis. Foolishly, he failed to have his hands treated at Bismarck. "They didn't hurt—were just kind of hard," he explained. But the frozen members began paining him soon, and while changing trains in Minnesota, he had a physician treat them. The doctor refused any payment for the service to the veteran, as did also a physician at Centralia, Mo., who gave the hands attention.

Scott had just 55 cents when he reached St. Louis the night of Feb. 29. Not knowing the city, he got off at the Wabash's Delmar boulevard station to look for the Veterans' Hospital. The hands were paining him again, and he went into a nearby doctor's office.

A nurse there refused his 55 cents and administered to him. Then the doctor came, took one look at his hands, Scott says, and declared: "Man, you need to go to the hospital."

Barred as Nonresident.
An ambulance was called, and a policeman took him to the City Hospital. "I thought they were going to take care of me, until they asked me where I lived," Scott told me there in his car, but they turned me down. Said I hadn't got my hands injured in the service.

"I didn't know what to do—but I thought about East St. Louis, where I was born. After I had walked across the Free Bridge, I went to the police station. They called Dr. Ryan to see what to do, and he said: 'We'll treat him, of course, and then send him to hospital.'"

Dr. Lawrence Ryan, city physician, had the veteran placed in St. Mary's Hospital at the county's expense, and a few days later he was removed to the County Farm hospital.

PRESIDENT URGES 25 PCT. TAX CUT BEFORE MARCH 15

In Special Message He Asks for Immediate Reduction of Levy on Income Due This Year.

WOULD SIDETRACK OTHER LEGISLATION

Conference of Leaders in House Had Decided Not to Attempt Reduction Before June 15.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 11.—President Coolidge today sent a special message to Congress recommending that a reduction of 25 per cent on income taxes for 1923 be authorized before March 15.

The President believes that the importance of the reduction would justify the laying aside of all other legislative business for its consideration.

The text of the message follows: "It has been my earnest hope that a 25 per centum reduction in taxes to be paid for the current year might be provided by law before the 15th of March current."

"Many people have been expecting that such would be the case and deferred their tax returns accordingly. It is a matter of such imminent importance that I have no hesitation in recommending that the public welfare would be much advanced by temporarily laying aside all other legislation and enacting a resolution for this purpose, which ought to be by unanimous consent."

"The taxpayers, the business interests, agriculture, industry, finance; in fact, all the elements that go to make up the economic welfare of the people of America would be greatly benefited by such action."

Stimulant to Business.
"It would remove an element of uncertainty from the current fiscal year at once, which would be a strong stimulant to business with its resultant benefit to the wage-earner and the agriculture of our country."

"It is impossible to see that any harm could accrue from this action, and there is every prospect of resulting benefits which would be very great."

"It would be a positive step in the right direction, which is more needed at this time to justify the confidence of the population that the Government is intent solely on the promotion of the public welfare without regard to any collateral objects."

Surprise to House Leaders.
The President's message came somewhat as a surprise to House Republican leaders, who yesterday turned down definitely plans to put through at this time such a resolution as he recommended. They had argued the legislative jam would not permit action before March 15.

Representative Longworth, Ohio, Republican leader, said he was not certain what response would be made to the message and pointed out that the means of getting such a resolution before the House would be by unanimous consent agreement. The action would have to start in the House, because it would deal with revenue matters.

Resolution providing for the 25 per cent reduction in income taxes payable this year have been introduced by Representatives Childs, Illinois, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, and Porter, Pennsylvania, Republicans. These were considered yesterday by the Republican members of the House.

HEBER NATIONS WILL BE FIRED AS RESULT OF BEER SCANDAL, UNLESS HE QUILTS STATE JOB

FEDERAL AGENTS TAPPED WIRES TO PRATHER'S OFFICE

Secret Service Men "Listened In" on Calls in Jefferson City and Kansas City.

MESSAGES TO BREWERY OVERHEARD

"That Deal Is Off, There's Something Hot On," Was Statement Made Over Phone on Jan. 17.

Wire-tapping, in the fashion of melodrama and the movies, was an important part of the inquiry made by Government Secret Service investigators into reports of "protection" of the manufacture and distribution of real beer in St. Louis. The inquiry has led, in the last few days, to the confession of one of the Griesedieck brothers, brewers, that he paid $15,000 to Charles S. Prather, State Food and Drug Commissioner, for such protection, and the resignation of Prather under fire.

With pliers and listening-in equipment, the investigators "cut in" on "Harrison 7798," Prather's Kansas City office; "Jefferson City 60," Prather's office in the Capitol Building; and the local telephone of the Griesedieck Brewery, 1800 Sheridan avenue. These operations were in the middle of January, when the men of the intelligence unit of the Federal Internal Revenue Department, began their endeavor to learn the facts and fix the responsibility for the extensive sale of beer, in St. Louis saloons, without apparent fear of interference.

On Jan. 14, Prather was in Kansas City. The investigators, in St. Louis a day or two before, learned that Prather was to be in Kansas City on the 14th, and that brewery representatives would try to reach him at "Harrison 7798" that day, or at "Jefferson City 60" on the following day, Jan. 15.

How Investigators Worked.
David Nolan, St. Louis representative of the intelligence unit, and several investigators accompanied him, arrived in Kansas City Jan. 13. They learned that "Harrison 7798" was the telephone number of an office in the Sheldy Building, occupied jointly by Commissioner Prather and Heber Nations, State Labor Commissioner. They learned also that "Jefferson City 60" was the station number in Commissioner Prather's office in the Capitol Building. They proceeded to tap the "Harrison" exchange telephone.

The investigators rented a room in a small hotel across the street from the Sheldy Building. From the hotel room they could view the office of the State officials. While one man watched the office with binoculars, another listened to telephone conversations on the tapped wire into the office. All conversations held over that line on Jan. 14 were heard by the listener-in.

Commissioners Prather and Nations were in the office during the morning, but left about noon and did not return that day.

One of the calls heard during the afternoon was that of Commissioner Nations, who asked for Prather, and when told that Prather was not in, left a request that Prather call up. Dixon Heister, a "Shirley" Nations called again for Prather later, but Prather had not returned or received the message.

Calls From St. Louis.
At 4:03 p. m., and again at 4:35 p. m., long-distance calls from St. Louis came for Prather. A deputy, in charge of the office, called Prather at a number of calls about town, and finally located him in a lawyer's office.

Prather said he would call long distance and get the St. Louis message. The investigation here had to show speed, and in 20 minutes they had tapped the telephone of the lawyer's office, and were listening in.

TOOK GIRL PRISONERS TO DANCE

Sheriff at Waukegan, Ill., Cited for Contempt of Federal Court.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 11.—Sheriff Edwin Ahlstrom of Waukegan, was summoned before Federal Judge Carpenter today and given 30 days in which to show cause why he should not be held for contempt of court for the alleged removal of three young women, Federal prisoners, from the jail to a dance hall in North Chicago.

The girls are Marjorie Moberly and Margaret Dakling, of Des Moines, Ia., held as witnesses in a Mann act case, and Marie Pink, a bootlegger, all of whom were held in the Lake County jail at Waukegan. According to the Government the girls confessed to Assistant District Attorney Swanson that they had been given drinks and were accompanied to the dance by the Sheriff and his brother, Harry, a Deputy Sheriff, and another man. The trip was made in the Sheriff's automobile one night in January.

RUMELY PARDON IS REFUSED

President Acts Adversely in Case of Former Editor.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 11.—An application for pardon of Edward A. Rumely, former editor of the New York Mail, convicted of violation of the espionage act, has been refused by President Coolidge.

Consideration may be given by the President, however, to an appeal for commutation of Rumely's sentence. The former publisher several weeks ago lost his final appeal in the Supreme Court and the President based his rejection of pardon primarily on the fact that he had not as yet begun serving the sentence imposed upon him.

ODOR OF BEER TO BE REMOVED FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

With Political Campaign Ahead, Governor Will Relieve Administration of Heavy Burden.

LABOR COMMISSIONER IS STANDING PAT, HOWEVER

Showdown Likely Here Tomorrow, When Governor Will Be in St. Louis; Heber Nations Says "It Would Be Discourteous to Discuss Matter With Anyone but Governor."

Gov. Hyde will fire State Labor Commissioner Heber Nations as an outcome of the exposure of the "protected beer" scandal in St. Louis, unless Nations resigns, the Post-Dispatch learned today from an authoritative source.

All Hyde has to do to eliminate the Labor Commissioner from his administration is to announce the name of his successor, officials at Jefferson City said, as Nations is holding office under appointment to an unexpired term which ended June 14 last, his tenure being merely until his successor is appointed and qualifies.

This development, close on the heels of the resignation Sunday of Charles S. Prather, of Advance, as Commissioner of Pure Food and Drugs, discloses that the Governor is trying to clear the smell of beer out of the State Capitol to relieve the Republican State administration of a heavy political burden on the eve of the State campaign, even as President Coolidge is trying in Washington to wipe away the smear of oil which has besmirched the Republican National administration in the beginning of a National campaign.

Gov. Hyde in Kansas City today said he had no information that Commissioners Nations intended to resign. "But if Nations submits his resignation, I will accept it," he added.

Hyde to Be Here Tomorrow.
Hyde declined to comment for publication on the report that Nations' removal from his State office is the next step on the administration's program to get rid of beer as a possible skeleton in its political closet. It is understood, however, that Gov. Hyde will act in Nations' case as soon as he can see the Labor Commissioner in person, who probably will be here tomorrow. The Governor announced in Kansas City that he will come here on a night train to be here tomorrow morning.

Before departing from Kansas City Gov. Hyde is expected to confer with L. F. Delhart, Prohibition Director for Missouri, in an effort to obtain additional information concerning the beer situation in St. Louis.

Commissioner's Latest Statement.
Commissioner Nations said this afternoon: "I have been repeatedly asked by newspaper reporters if I intended to resign my position as a State official. If I had any such thing in mind it would be discourteous to discuss the matter with anybody until I first had taken it up with the Governor."

Gov. Hyde talked at Jefferson City yesterday to a number of other State officials who were considerably exercised about the effect on their party's chances of success at the election next November, and who disclosed the decision that Commissioner Nations was to go as a sacrifice to party expediency.

The Governor, in determining to get rid of Nations, has not passed on the guilt or innocence of the Labor Commissioner, whose name came into the protected beer scandal on Feb. 21 in a statement by his brother Gus to the St. Louis Star, soon after the Post-Dispatch exclusively had published first news of a Federal inquiry into the sale of protected beer, which had involved two State officials. Gus Nations in that statement said that his brother Heber was one of the State officials to whom reference was made.

How Removal Can Be Effectuated.
Hyde takes the position that Nations could best "nail these accusations," as a private citizen, and that the State administration should not have to bear brunt of that fight.

The Governor consulted several attorneys who are in his administration and who told him that the State administration should not have to bear brunt of that fight.

U. S. OFFICIALS KNEW OF DOHENY LOAN TO OREGON

Oil Magnate's Statement of $5,000,000 Advance
Fails to Disturb Daugherty Investigators.

WITNESSES ARRIVE IN WASHINGTON

Regular Republicans on Committee Take Little Part in Work Preliminary to Hearing.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-22 West Building.
WASHINGTON, March 11.—
Witnesses for the Senate investigation of Attorney-General Daugherty have begun to arrive in Washington. They are taken immediately to the office of Senator Wheeler, "prosecutor" for the Senate committee, who announced that hearings would begin Thursday.
Present plans call for evidence at the first hearing concerning the Cantu revolution in Lower California, some of the details of which as told unofficially to the committee, were published in the Post-Dispatch yesterday.

After examining material dealing with the subject Senator Wheeler last night reiterated he would be able to make good on the charges that Daugherty and oil interests aided the revolution. Chairman Brookhart nor any of the Democratic members of the committee is neither disturbed by the efforts that E. L. Doheny and other friends of Daugherty are making to stir up a backlash.

When Senator Wheeler's attention was called to a statement given out by Doheny in which he told of a $5,000,000 loan to President Obregon the Senator immediately recalled that Doheny had testified that in 1920 he contributed to both the Democratic and Republican campaign funds in the United States.

Known to State Department.
The Doheny loan to Oregon was made with the knowledge of the State Department.

In order to get further corroboration of the stories of gunrunning which agents of the Department of Justice failed to halt, it was announced, a subpoena has been issued for Harris S. Obbon, former Mayor of Calexico, Cal., who professed to know of the promotion of the Cantu revolution in Lower California with $1,000,000 of American oil money.

In his letter to the committee,
Obbon mentions both former Secretary Fall and Doheny, but fails to say whether his charges are based on hearsay or direct knowledge. This makes it necessary to bring him to Washington.

A general attempt is being made by Republican officials to discredit
the Wheeler investigation by statements that it is "purely political."
Daugherty continues to remain almost every day.

Senators Moses and Jones, the two regular Republican members of the committee, are taking virtually no part in its preliminary work, leaving it to Wheeler and Brookhart to go as far as they please and hit as hard as they can.
This is taken to mean that it has been decided by Republican leaders to let Daugherty hang to his job pending the early hearings to see what develops.

Wood Not Questioned.

It is pointed out that if the Attorney-General should be shown in a bad light it would not be necessary for President Coolidge to wait for the end of the investigation in order to act, and there is every reason for believing that the hearings of the first few days will decide whether Daugherty is to remain in the Cabinet until the end of the investigation and then resign, or be thrown out summarily.

Leonard Wood Jr., who made
the charges concerning Jake Hamon's supposed attempt to make a deal with Major General Wood in 1920
under which Hamon was to get a job in the Cabinet in return for the support of General Wood by the oil interests for the Republican presidential nomination, was called yesterday to the office of Senator Wheeler. After half an hour he was sent away without being questioned.

It was recalled by one of those who had an intimate part in the Cox 1920 campaign that, after the Democratic candidate had several times announced that if he were elected President there would be no American intervention in Ireland, Doheny apparently lost his endurance for a Democratic campaign. Doheny is supposed at that time to have been heartily in favor of intervention.

A subpoena has been issued for Gordon E. Means, now under two indictments in New York in connection with liquor withdrawals and alleged attempted bribery of Daugherty and his aides in New York. The subpoena calls for papers, diaries and other documents
of Means, who formerly was a Department of Justice agent.

Miss Hamon Goes to Capital to Deny Wood's Story.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 11.—Olive Belle Hamon, 16-year-old daughter of the late Jake Hamon, wealthy oil man and Oklahoma Republican leader, departed last night for Washington in an attempt to persuade the United States Senate to allow her to deny charges that her father had attempted to arrange a corrupt political deal with Major-General Leonard Wood. She took no baggage except a violin which she said her father had given her
and left a note for her mother saying, "Mother, dear, I've gone to tell the Senate about daddy. I think he'd like me to. Don't worry. I'll be a good girl. Olive Belle."

St. Louis Negro Robber Paroled.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 11.—
A sick parole was granted by Gov.
Hyde yesterday to Harry Jackson,
negro, sentenced to the penitentiary from St. Louis on April 14, 1913, to serve 10 years for first-degree robbery. Jackson is said by the prison physicians to have an incurable disease. He is paroled to his brother, Ben Jackson of St.
Louis.

of intervention.

A subpoena has been issued for Gordon E. Means, now under two indictments in New York in connection with liquor withdrawals
and alleged attempted bribery of Daugherty and his aides in New York. The subpoena calls for papers, diaries and other documents
of Means, who formerly was a Department of Justice agent.

It was recalled by one of those who had an intimate part in the Cox 1920 campaign that, after the Democratic candidate had several
elected President there would be no American intervention in Ireland, Doheny apparently lost his endurance for a Democratic campaign. Doheny is supposed at that time to have been heartily in favor
of intervention.

In his letter to the committee,
Obbon mentions both former Secretary Fall and Doheny, but fails
to say whether his charges are based on hearsay or direct knowledge. This makes it necessary to bring him to Washington.

A general attempt is being made
by Republican officials to discredit
the Wheeler investigation by statements that it is "purely political."
Daugherty continues to remain almost every day.

Senators Moses and Jones, the
two regular Republican members
of the committee, are taking virtually no part in its preliminary work, leaving it to Wheeler and Brookhart to go as far as they
please and hit as hard as they can.
This is taken to mean that it has been decided by Republican leaders
to let Daugherty hang to his job
pending the early hearings to see what develops.

Wood Not Questioned.

It is pointed out that if the Attorney-General should be shown in a bad light it would not be necessary for President Coolidge to wait
for the end of the investigation in order to act, and there is every reason for believing that the hearings of the first few days will decide whether Daugherty is to remain in the Cabinet until the end of the investigation and then re-

Leonard Wood Jr., who made
the charges concerning Jake Hamon's supposed attempt to make a deal
with Major General Wood in 1920
under which Hamon was to get a job in the Cabinet in return for the support of General Wood by the oil interests for the Republican presidential nomination, was called yesterday to the office of Senator Wheeler. After half an hour he was sent away without being questioned.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Olive
Belle Hamon, 16-year-old daughter of the late Jake Hamon, wealthy
oil man and Oklahoma Republican leader, departed last night for Washington in an attempt to persuade the United States Senate to allow her to deny charges that her father had attempted to arrange a corrupt political deal with Major-General Leonard Wood. She took
no baggage except a violin which
and left a note for her mother saying, "Mother, dear, I've gone to tell
the Senate about daddy. I think he'd like me to. Don't worry. I'll be a good girl. Olive Belle."

A sick parole was granted by Gov.
Hyde yesterday to Harry Jackson,
negro, sentenced to the peniten-

degree robbery. Jackson is said by the prison physicians to have an

WORKERS HIRING MEN TO REPLACE UNION LABORERS

Work on Projects Pushed Despite Refusal of Hod-Carriers to Accept 10-Cent Hour Increase.

MAJORITY OF 3178 WORKERS ARE IDLE

Employers "Going Slow" in Further Negotiations With Men - Painters' Contract Expires Saturday

Failure of the International Brotherhood of Building Laborers to accept the 10-cent hourly increase offered by employers at the end of the week resulted in a number of building projects being delayed today with other workers willing to work at the old rate of 47 1/2 cents an hour. Hod-carriers, while belonging to the same organization as the building laborers, have a higher scale. The International Brotherhood of Building Laborers, which is the largest of the union laborers, has a membership of 31,788. The union laborers are not working on the main revenue bill and the taxpayers could not be assured by the delay because a rate could always be given or else the taxpayer permitted to pay one of the quarterly installments on the fifteenth of June, September or December.

Only a few days remain before the first payments are due. If the House wished it could report and vote on a measure in 24 hours and the resolution be sent to the Senate where it is doubtful if any Democrat or Republican would care to take the responsibility of blocking an immediate cut in taxes. But Congress is unaware evidently of the pressure of public opinion.

Quick Action Possible. There have been some, for instance, who thought the provision affecting 1923 incomes might be used as leverage to force quick action on the main revenue bill and that the taxpayers could not be assured by the delay because a rate could always be given or else the taxpayer permitted to pay one of the quarterly installments on the fifteenth of June, September or December.

But Congress is unaware evidently of the pressure of public opinion.

Only a few days remain before the first payments are due. If the House wished it could report and vote on a measure in 24 hours and the resolution be sent to the Senate where it is doubtful if any Democrat or Republican would care to take the responsibility of blocking an immediate cut in taxes. But Congress is unaware evidently of the pressure of public opinion.

Beer Scandal to Cost Heber Nations His Job

David Nolan, chief of the local intelligence unit of the Internal Revenue Department, today said: "We are conducting an investigation. We have not mentioned the name of Mr. Nations in connection with this investigation. When we think that for the best interests of the investigation Mr. Nations should be seen and if we so decide, then we will seek him. At this time we have nothing to say to Mr. Nations."

Statement in Nations' Paper. The Jefferson City Daily Post, of which Heber Nations is the principal owner, yesterday afternoon carried a statement telephoned from St. Louis by him, as follows: "I am not interested in anything in the world just now, except to do everything in my power to help save my brother's life."

"It is characteristic of the wolves that have been snapping at his heels to lay low when he has been laid low by the surgeon's knife and is battling for his very existence."

"In the language of Holy Writ, 'They shall have their reward.' When he is able to assert his rights in a civil court the slander put out by a St. Louis newspaper will be given proper consideration. 'Show me a man who will say he ever gave Gus Nations a nickel for protection or ever got a nickel's worth of protection from him and I will give you the biggest liar in America.'"

"Beer Keg Smashed Future Flat." At Jefferson City yesterday it was observed that Republican State officialdom is much disturbed over the possible loss of political prestige which may be suffered by the Republican party in this State by developments of this affair. As one of Gov. Hyde's most prominent department heads put it:

"A beer keg has smashed our immediate future flat." Immediate steps which the Governor has taken, however, to lift the hand of beer from his administration, which always has professed to be almost fanatically dry throughout, are expected by his political followers to discount to some extent the feared loss of public esteem.

The governor was in Washington last week in the course of a vacation when he learned of the impending exposure of the system whereby real beer was being manufactured and marketed in St. Louis without appreciable hindrance. Hyde had intended either to go to Princeton, N. J., or to Europe in the continuance of his holiday. But State Finance Commissioner Mulleugh took to Hyde in Washington the news of the rumors which were seething in Missouri, of an investigation by Federal agents which was said to be directed against the party in St. Louis, and he had been urging him quietly as a good compromise candidate for National Committee upon whom both the Hyde-Clements men and the old guard leaders could unite.

Commissioner Nations, too, has had the Governor's ear throughout the present administration, his position as publisher of the leading Republican daily in Central Missouri having been strengthened by his wide acquaintance and political strength among dry organizations throughout the State.

Loss of these two lieutenants and resultant shattering of arrangements which they had directed for controlling the election of the Governor's friends as delegates to the Republican State and National Conventions, has seriously jeopardized control of the State administration over the Republican party in Missouri. Three separate groups of old guard Republicans are jockeying for a chance to edge the Governor away from the rail in the race for control which the three years have been firmly held by him, but which is now at issue in the pre-convention campaigns. Unquestionably they will use the beer scandal to the limit.

Heber Nations is still in St. Louis today because of the condition of his brother, Gus O. Nations, who was operated upon for appendicitis at Bethesda Hospital Saturday. The latter, who has been reported as in serious condition, was said today to be improving satisfactorily.

ASSERTS BREWERY PAID SHUPP $500 FOR ENFORCEMENT

Anheuser-Busch Representative Says Money Was Sent by Office Girl in June, 1921.

In a circular issued by the Joint Legislative Committee for Modifying the Volstead Act, the organization which is sponsoring introduction of a "beer bill" by 50 Congressmen, the charge is made that former Supp. Shupp of the Antislavery League of Missouri, "demanded and received fees from brewers for getting the prohibition law enforced."

A responsible representative of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., said today that he knew of no such arrangement of facts that any money was making beverage, received reports from his salesmen in 1921 that competition was being because of the fact that the Antislavery League of Missouri, "demanded and received fees from brewers for getting the prohibition law enforced."

Shupp replied, the brewery representative said today, that the league could do nothing because its treasury was depleted. Anheuser-Busch sent him $500 for the league, by an office girl, the representative declared, and a few days later the Griseledick Bros. brewery was visited by two Federal prohibition agents and a law-enforcement representative of the Antislavery League.

Truck Followed. That was on June 11, 1921. The raiders, who had been unable to obtain a search warrant, because of the nature of their advance information, loitered around the Griseledick brewery until they saw an express truck arrive and receive a load of 11 flour barrels. They trailed the truck to a saloon on Market street, near Broadway, where the proprietor refused to accept it. The truck was followed by the brewery, where a truck of another express company was found, loaded with 42 similar barrels.

The agents seized the 54 barrels on the two trucks and found that some of the more potent bottles of real beer. The express drivers, who were released, said they had been employed for some time, at $2.50 an hour, delivering beer to the brewery, when ever sent for.

The agents, in trying to get a search warrant for the brewery, said their information came from Supp. Shupp, who had received "from a drummer employed by another brewery."

Permit Revoked. The permit of the brewery to dealcoholize beer was revoked after this affair, but later another permit was issued after the brewery had compromised by paying $17,000 in fines and penalties.

When the $20,000 damage suit of John Paderer Jr. against Superintendent Shupp and a city detective resulting from the shooting of Paderer in Chief Prohibition Agent Gus Nations' raid on Hotel Chase, New Orleans, 1923, reached the stage of deposition, Supp. Shupp started to testify. Towards the end of his first session on the stand he was asked about a conference he had had with Nations in June or August, 1922, about information that the Griseledick Bros. brewery was making illegal beer.

Shupp recalled that he gave such a "tip" to Nations, who took office in January, 1922, and said he received his information anonymously, either by letter or telephone. He denied that a young woman in person had given him the information and when asked if she had deposited money on his desk he straightened up in his chair and said emphatically, "That certainly is not true."

He was not questioned much longer in that session. Next day, Feb. 1, 1923, when he was to testify again, it was announced that he had suffered a general nervous breakdown, and he testified no more. Six weeks later he resigned more. Six weeks later he resigned more. Six weeks later he resigned more.

Shupp today said he had been reached for a statement. His attorney in the Paderer suit, Charles M. Hay, said that he knew nothing about the $500 matter beyond the reference in the deposition.

It has recently developed that the Griseledick Brewery, after getting a new permit to dealcoholize beer and thus sell "beverage," with the result that one of its officials last Saturday made a confession that the brewery had paid $15,000 to State Food and Drug Commissioner Prather for "protection."

The Joint Legislative Committee for Modifying the Volstead Act, in its circular, is demanding that Congress investigate the Antislavery League to determine the source and distribution of the league's revenues and its "boasted control of the law-making branches of government."

OFFERS TO GO TO ELECTRIC CHAIR AS A SUBSTITUTE

Philadelphia Suggests to Governor That Condemned Man Be Given 10 or 15 Year Term.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 11.—Offering to go to the electric chair in place of Joseph Trinkle, convicted of murder, Walter J. Kirkwood, 60, of Philadelphia, wrote to Gov. Pinchot that Trinkle should have 10 to 15 years in prison, as when he has served his time he would be young enough to be of use. The Governor referred the request to the Board of Pardons, which informed Kirkwood that there is no law in this State that will permit the substitution.

Kirkwood stated he was broken in health, cannot hold down a real job, and that he would be "of no more use on earth whatever." His motive, he explained, was to "startle humanity to a keen realization of what capital punishment means to pay inquest was the first intimation that the police had been able to make a step towards catching the men who held up Schaefer, his wife and a woman client."

LIPSTICK BLAMED FOR DEATH

Atlantic City Girl Believed to Have Been Poisoned.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 11.—Florence Emily Dickinson, 16 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dickinson of this city, who died in the Atlantic City Hospital Sunday, is believed to have been a victim of lipstick poisoning. The girl was taken to the hospital Thursday with her face swollen to almost double its normal size. Her operation was performed the next day but the poison had spread through her body. The girl's parents said she had been suffering from chapped lips. The lipstick she used is believed to have caused blood poisoning. Chemists are examining the cosmetic to determine whether it contained any poison ingredients.

MOULAN DIVORCE SUIT HEARD

Wife of Comedian Names Undenied Charges.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Bertha Moulou, singer with the DeWolf Hopper Opera Company, named an unidentified woman as correspondent in her suit for absolute divorce from Frank Moulou, comedian of musical comedy fame. The actor did not defend the suit, which was tried before Supreme Court Justice Platsek. Decision was reserved.

This is said to be the third matrimonial venture of the comedian, which has been shipwrecked. INQUEST VERDICT HOLDS PAIR FOR SCHAEFER KILLING

Man, 26, Identified by Woman Clerk as One of Robbers Who Held Up Delicatessen.

A youth, and a man were held for homicide by a coroner's jury today in the case of John Edward Schaefer, 36 years old, who was wantonly murdered in a holdup of his delicatessen at 1811 South Thirty-ninth street, at 12:30 a. m. yesterday. The prisoners are Edward Kummer, 26, a railroad machinist, of 3521 Caroline street, and Thomas O'Toole, 18, a United Railways trackman, of 2923 Caroline street. Kummer was identified as one of the holdup men. Testimony at the inquest was the first intimation that the police had been able to make a step towards catching the men who held up Schaefer, his wife and a woman client.

After the coroner's verdict, Kummer and O'Toole were taken to the Circuit Attorney's office for questioning.

The first inquest witness was Miss Josephine Ern of 1822A South Third street, the clerk who was held up, and who picked Kummer from those in the coroner's room as one of the robbers. She said she had not had a good look at the other man, but that Kummer was the one who made Mrs. Schaefer open the cash register, from which he took $10. She said she heard the shot fired which hit Schaefer, but could not see which of the intruders fired it.

Police Captain Chrismer, testifying, related that Miss Ern had picked Kummer from a group of suspects under arrest at the Magnolia Avenue Police Station and was positive in her identification of him. She related that he had worn an overcoat and partially concealed his face with a handkerchief part of the time, and the Captain said, when an overcoat was put on Kummer in the station and he was told to hold a handkerchief over his face, her identification was even more certain.

Mrs. Schaefer, the Captain reported, was unable to identify any of the suspects. Arrested in "Chile Parlor." The Captain testified that Kummer and O'Toole were arrested in "chile parlor" at the southwest corner of Grana "boulevard" and Park avenue about 2 a. m. yesterday. He said Kummer told him he had been at a moving picture theater on Common avenue until 11 p. m. Sunday, then went directly home. O'Toole told the officer,

Mrs. Schaefer and Miss Ern were unable to see the shot fired at Schaefer because they were facing the wall with their hands raised. They told policemen that voices and movements they heard indicated that it was the second robber who entered the place who fired the shot, not the one who milled Mrs. Schaefer open the register. Mrs. Schaefer's cries attracted Schaefer from the basement, where he had counted $290.77, the Saturday night and Sunday receipts, and put the money in his pockets.

Schaefer often told his uncle, Patrolman John Schaefer of the Mounted Police District, that if he was held up he would hand over his money. Patrolman Schaefer thinks his nephew was shot because the robbers misinterpreted his movement for the money as a movement for a weapon. Both robbers would be responsible for the murder under the law.

THREAT TO PROSECUTE
26TH WARD REED MENCharles M. Hay Asserts 200 Antis Were Kept Out of Hall by 24 Inside.

A threat of legal action against Twenty-sixth Ward pro-Reed Democrats, if they swear to affidavits regarding the mass meeting Saturday night for election of delegates to the State convention, was made yesterday by Charles M. Hay, anti-Reed Democrat, who lives in the ward.

As has been told, Reed forces, led by Patrick J. McNamara, ward committeeman, entered the hall at Marcus and Easton avenues, by a rear entrance. When they unlocked the front door, around which a crowd of anti-Reed Democrats had gathered, they announced that the meeting was over. The anti-Reed forces entered the hall, however, and elected their own slate of delegates, over protests of the Reed forces.

Hay gave out a statement today asserting that he and others waited outside the door from 6:20 p. m. to 8 p. m., when the door was opened. He said actual count showed 24 persons in the hall, when the anti-Reed forces were admitted. He claims more than 200 anti-Reed Democrats were present.

"I make this statement not only in justice to the loyal Democrats and law-abiding citizens who attended this meeting," Hay said, "but to expose the impudent rascality of this so-called committeeman who disgraces the Democracy of the Twenty-sixth ward and the City of St. Louis every minute he infests the office he holds within the party."

"Since he and his henchmen had the consummate effrontery to perpetrate this outrage I hope they will have the nerve to make affidavits in support of their attempted steal so that steps can be taken for a judicial investigation of their conduct. It should no longer be possible for men of their ilk to perpetrate or attempt to perpetrate frauds of this kind and then get away with it simply by having a convention override their work."

REPLIES TO CHARGES OF BROADCASTING MONOPOLYHead of American Telephone and Telegraph Says Company May Quit Field.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 11.—Denying that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. seeks a monopoly of the air in radio broadcasting, S. D. Thayer, president of the company, said the corporation might decide to retire from that field entirely.

Thayer declared the company brought its patent suit against the North American Co. "to save radio from itself."

"The air was being filled with messages, over which there was no control," said Thayer, "and we decided that until the Government, which is the only agency which properly should exercise control over the air, decides what to do in the way of regulation, we should exercise our patent rights and endeavor to remedy the situation."

Grover A. Whalen, City Commissioner of Plants and Structures, has received from Houston Thompson, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, a letter stating that the commission at its next meeting would consider charges that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. seeks a monopoly of radio broadcasting in this country.

Preparation for an active fight against control of the air by any one organization, unless it be the Federal Government, is being made by independent radio broadcasters.

An independent broadcaster said music publishers had united in demanding $1,000,000 in royalties from broadcasters, thus restricting operations.

Don't Let High Blood Pressure Shorten Your Life
 How to Stop It—Read This.

It may surprise you to know high blood pressure is so serious that insurance companies refuse to issue policies to those who have it. All because it shortens life.

High blood pressure gives little warning and until certain symptoms make hold, you do not know it. They are head pains, flushed face, hot flashes, dizzy spells, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, and nervousness.

Only a purely vegetable medicine, Normin, that drives out the waste matter which clogs the system and forces the heart to do extra work, can reduce high blood pressure. Often one bottle of Normin will bring reduction enough to stop the symptoms which distress and worry you.

Normin is a physician's prescription. It worked so wonderfully in his personal practice that it has now been placed in drug stores so that people everywhere can obtain it. Check the uncertainty of high blood pressure by reducing it with Normin. Wolff Wilson, Judge & Dolph, Enderle and Johnson Bros. Drug Stores, or your favorite druggist can supply you.

SOUTH BROADWAY MERCHANTS

CITY TAX RATE
$2.47 OR $2.53;
$2.43 LAST YEAR

Four-Cent Increase Definitely Scheduled and Board of Education Can Demand Six Cents More.

An increase of 4 cents on the $100 valuation for city taxes is definitely scheduled in the budget for 1924-1925 which the City Comptroller's office is now preparing, and a possible increase of 6 cents more is in sight if the Board of Education demands its legal maximum for support of the schools.

Estimates totaling more than $15,000,000 already have been presented to the Comptroller and with all reports in, it is expected that the various departments of city government will ask for more than $19,000,000 for support this year. This sum will be pared down to about $16,000,000, as was done last year.

The increase of four cents will raise the total city tax rate from $2.43, as it was last year, to $2.47. This is made necessary because $5,000,000 in bonds are to be floated under the bond issue and interest on them must be met. Of the $2.47, the schools receive 82 cents and the State 10 cents.

The Board of Education is empowered by law to ask as high as 88 cents. If it decided to do this the total tax rate will be $2.53 on the $100 valuation.

City departments are not asking for any more this year than last. The Police Department budget will be more than $4,000,000, the Fire Department is asking for $1,809,962 and the Parks Department for $1,106,264, and so on through all the departments.

COMMITTEE VOTES TO REPORT OUT COURTHOUSE ORDINANCE

Bill Locating $4,000,000 Structure on Plaza to be Approved by Aldermanic Body.

The special courthouse committee of the Board of Aldermen today voted to report out favorably at Friday's meeting of the board the ordinance locating the new $4,000,000 courthouse in the block bounded by Eleventh, Market and Chestnut streets and Twelfth boulevard.

The city already owns the eastern two-thirds of the block, but persons favoring locating the courthouse near the present courthouse at Broadway and Market street, have contended the west third of the block cannot be built upon, because bond issue provisions designated it for plaza purposes.

The proposed ordinance, drawn to confine the building to the eastern two-thirds, was amended by the committee to state simply that the structure should be in this block. If it is decided later that the restrictions do not hold, the building can be placed anywhere in the block desired. If not, city engineers have said the two-thirds block will be sufficient, leaving the remaining portion for a lawn.

Chairman Udel, and Alderman Wiehe and August Niederlueke, voted to report the bill out favorably. Alderman Watts, who, with Alderman Nangle, author of a proposed ordinance to locate the new building near the old courthouse, makes up the Aldermanic opposition to the plaza site, voted against a favorable report.

SETS NEW HYDROAIRPLANE RECORD OF 29,527 FEET

Leconte, French Flyer, Already Held Altitude Record of 36,564 Feet for Airplanes.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, March 11.—Sadi Leconte, the famous French aviator, ascended to a height of 29,527 feet (29,527.6 feet) in a hydro-airplane today, according to his instruments when he returned from the flight. If the flight is officially accepted it will mean the establishment of a new world's altitude record for hydroairplanes.

Jean Laporte, another French aviator, on Nov. 30 last, established a new world's record for altitude for a hydroairplane, ascending to a height of 5355 meters. The record was officially verified. Sadi Leconte holds the altitude record for airplanes, having ascended to 36,564.88 feet at Issy-Les-Moulineaux on Oct. 31, 1923.

SIBERIAN VOLCANOES ACTIVE

Earthquakes and Typhoons on Kamchatka Peninsula.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, March 11.—Extraordinary volcanic activity, accompanied by earthquakes, has been in progress on the Kamchatka peninsula for two months, says a Petrovavlovsk dispatch. Snow and typhoons alternated with warm rains. The earth shocks occurred almost daily.

Of the numerous volcanoes on the peninsula more than a dozen are in eruption. The population remains tranquil.

Woman Found Dead From Gas.

Mrs. Tillie Behrens, 30 years old, of 2609 St. Louis avenue, a widow, was found dead in the kitchen of her home, with the burners of a gas range turned on but not lighted, yesterday afternoon, when neighbors traced the odor of gas. A son, Joseph, 14, arrived home from school about the time the body was discovered.

SALARY BROKER WHO LOST CASE DECIDES TO PAY UP

Samuel E. Sell, Who Sued Borrower Finds Himself Out $26.68.

When Samuel E. Sell, head of the American Brokerage Co., was informed by Justice of the Peace Crittenden Clark Feb. 23 that, according to the Justice's addition and subtraction, he owed $19.33 to a man he was suing for $55.17, Sell announced he would appeal. Yesterday, however, he came in, got the answer to a simple problem in addition—$19.33, plus $7.35 court costs—paid the $26.68, and was released from further instruction.

Sell, who lends money to salaried people, had sued John A. Doyle, a painter, 4100 Forest Park boulevard, on a note. Doyle sent up counter claims, mainly for commissions on supplying Sell with the names of prospective customers, and Justice Clark allowed enough of them to make Sell, the lender, debtor to Doyle, the borrower.

New in form—a complete soap—with greater cleansing power than bar soap . . . Yet immediately soluble!

This new kind of laundry soap dissolves instantly!

Makes the water in your tubs "soap-sudsy" all through—
 Soaks dirt out—saves you the hard work of rubbing

A NEW SOAP that spares you the hardest work of washday!

That soaks dirt out in its rich soap-suds!

You no longer have to rub soap on your clothes to get them soapy and you don't have to rub the soapy clothes to get them clean.

CLEANSING RINSO SUDS gently dissolve the dirt from even the inmost fibers of the clothes you put to soak.

Only the specially dirty places like cuff-edges, neckbands, seats of rompers, need a little dry Rinso sprinkled on them and a light rubbing between your fingers. Then you rinse it all thoroughly and the loosened dirt is carried away.

Because Rinso dissolves completely you cannot possibly have any bits of soap left sticking to garments and turning them yellow under the iron, as so often happens with bar soap.

YOU GET a good clear rinse that absolutely floats off all the soapy solution—your clothes are cleaner than ever and with so much less labor!

The only soap you need for the Monday wash is—just Rinso. You soak with it, boil with it, use it in your washing machine. You don't have to bother with bar soap or washing powders any more.

The largest soap-makers in the world—the makers of Lux—make Rinso. Try Rinso today—use enough to get big lasting suds after the clothes have been put in, and see for yourself how easily this new kind of laundry soap gets your clothes snowy white.

At all grocers—regular size and big new package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Manufacturers of Famous Fabrics say: "Rinso saves the clothes because it soaks dirt out, rinses easily and there is no hard rubbing to wear out the fabric."

LAW FIXING HOURS OF WORK OF WOMEN DECLARED VALID

Supreme Court Upholds Constitutionality of New York Statute Affecting Restaurants.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—States may legally limit the hours of work of women in certain industries and prohibit their employment after certain hours at night, the Supreme Court declared yesterday in a decision sustaining the constitutionality of a New York law.

The case was brought by Joseph Radio, a restaurant keeper in Buffalo, who was convicted of having permitted a waitress to work after 10 o'clock at night, in violation of the act of 1917.

Pointing out that there was good reason for believing that the New York Legislature had correctly concluded that the injurious consequences of night employment were more pronounced upon women than upon men, the Supreme Court, in an opinion delivered by Justice Sutherland, held that the law was not an undue and arbitrary interference with the liberty of contract between adults in the matter of employment.

The minimum wage case, recently decided by the Supreme Court, in which it was held that an act of Congress fixing wages was unconstitutional, presented an entirely different question, the court said. The fact that the New York law excludes from its operation women employed in restaurants as singers and performers, attendants in ladies' cloak rooms and kitchens of hotels and in lunchrooms or restaurants conducted by employers solely for the benefit of their employees, did not render the law invalid, Justice Sutherland declared.

The court had well established, he said, that such a provision did not render a law vulnerable as a denial of equal protection under the laws. The question as to what extent the employment of women should be permitted is one, he said, for the Legislatures of the states to determine.

CHARGES AGAINST SCHOOL HEAD

Ousted Teacher Renews Row at Kansas City, Kan.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., March 11.—E. E. Damon, printing instructor, discharged from the local high school, after he had kissed a senior girl on a dare, filed charges against C. T. Rice, principal, with the Board of Education yesterday.

Damon accused the principal of misusing school supplies, ordering printing done at the school for outside interests, spending $45 a month for unnecessary help and with conduct "unbecoming an officer of the school." Demonstrations by students of their sympathy for Damon and their antagonism toward Rice, reached a climax recently when several eggs were thrown at the principal.

CONVENTION BUREAU CAMPAIGN OPENS

100 Volunteer Workers Begin Solicitations for $100,000 in Pledges.

More than 100 volunteer workers this morning began the task of canvassing business firms to get pledges aggregating $100,000 for the support of the St. Louis Convention Bureau. The campaign, scheduled to last one week, was officially opened at a dinner at Hotel Statler last night. The workers will make their first report tomorrow noon at a luncheon at Hotel Statler.

The need of adequate finances for the bureau was explained by various speakers last night. Charles F. Hatfield, manager of the bureau, explained that the fund was to be used to bring new conventions here and with them increased business in St. Louis. He predicted 400 conventions here in 1924. Hatfield also stressed the importance of getting ready for the Municipal Auditorium. Big conventions are always booked three or four years in advance, and in order to benefit from the auditorium, when it is built, the bureau must get to work immediately.

Mayor Kiel, Carl P. G. Meyer and E. Lansing Ray also spoke for the convention fund.

Negro Killed During Fight.
Tony Hall, 24 years old, of 3220 Hickory street, rear, a negro, was shot and killed in a room there at 11:30 p. m. yesterday in a general fight. Police are seeking two negroes. Both are named as having fired the fatal shot by different witnesses to the affair. The trouble started, police were told, when a negro woman was called from Hall's room by her husband. When she refused, she was struck, precipitating a general fight.

Decrease in Sacramental Wine.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 11.—The consumption of sacramental wine has decreased more than 50 per cent since the first of the year, as compared to the same period last year.

since reorganization of the distribution of wine to Jewish families. Maj. Percy Owen, Federal prohibition director for Illinois, announced last night. He declared that the placing of control of wine distribution in the hands of the rabbis of each synagogue will reduce consumption of sacramental wine in Chicago from 350,000 gallons in 1923 to 500,000 gallons in 1924. Bootleggers, he said, had been withdrawing wine for congregations that never existed.

How to care for Dull Hair
Just washing hair doesn't do it. For what a difference in its appearance a little hair oil makes! Like linen, hair requires something more than soap and water to make it really beautiful. If you honestly want to have bright, shining, resplendent hair, you must put it there. Golden Glint Shampoo keeps hair where plain shampooing stops. It gives the hair a natural radiance truly beautiful, a long-lasting brightness that lasts between shampooings. It cleanses the scalp, keeps the hair soft and supple, and gives it a natural shine. You'll never know how dull your hair can look until you've had a Golden Glint Shampoo. Try one, 25¢ at all drug stores.

KING ASSAILS SELFISH AIMS OF STATESMEN

Boris Talks of Misery All Over World and How Bulgaria Tries to Keep Peace.

By the Associated Press.
SOFIA, Bulgaria, March 11.—King Boris is greatly concerned over the disturbing situation in the Balkans. The relations between Bulgaria and Jugo-Slavia are badly strained, the trouble between the two countries being of long standing, but accentuated recently by border clashes.
The Bulgarian Government is endeavoring to suppress the Macedonian insurgents, who have been causing the Serbs, now incorporated in the Jugo-Slavia state, much trouble by incursions.
King Boris reviewed with the Associated Press correspondent the general situation, voicing a strong plea for harmony.
"I hope from the bottom of my heart," said the King, "that no new developments will arise to endanger the peace of the Balkans, for disturbing events in the Balkans cannot fail to disturb the rest of the world and mankind cannot afford to face new uncertainties."

Ready for Sacrifices.
"The policy of Bulgaria is directed toward the maintenance of peace in the Balkans. We are weary of torment and tragedy; any policy of irritation of our neighbors or revenge would be suicidal to Bulgaria. All our efforts are directed to the avoidance of even the appearance of a lurking desire to disquiet our neighbors. To that end we are ready for almost any sacrifice, as our present conduct on the Macedonian question shows to all the world."
"The only way normal conditions can be restored in the Balkans is by the substitution of co-operation for discord. My country is not the only sufferer from the events of the past decade; the other Balkan countries plainly show the exhausting effects of the tragic decade. It is to the interest of all the states to maintain peace and clasp hands in a forward movement, for the welfare of the masses."

"I deeply feel the grinding difficulties brought into millions of individual lives by the selfish aims of statesmen. My conception of the chief duty of statesmen at this momentous period is to lighten the burdens that crush all peoples, whether victorious or defeated. Any policy that involves the danger of a return of international anarchy is a deliberate blow at the welfare of mankind. The avoidance of such a policy is the aim of Bulgaria. For ourselves we seek only a chance to work and so be able to meet all our obligations to great and small states and rebuild all the war has destroyed."

"Handwork of America."
"We beg the world to believe us and make it possible for us to attain our purpose, which is not in conflict with the interest of any states in the Balkans of the world."
"I hope especially that America will understand us. The world destinies are largely in the hands of America. From America my people for many years past have received friendly aid and sympathy in their educational efforts. Bulgaria is largely the handwork of America."
"It is my sincere hope that during the period of readjustment our efforts to promote peace in the Balkans at almost any cost to ourselves will be appreciated by America, so nobly generous both intellectually and materially."

SHOE REPAIRING BY BLIND
Shoe repairing, as an occupation for the blind, has been added to the list of vocations taught at the workshop of the Missouri Association for the Blind at 1824 North Jefferson avenue. Heretofore, broom-making and weaving have been the principal vocations, and while shoe repairing is still in its experimental stage, Mrs. Anna Harris, secretary of the association, has high hopes for its success. A local shoe machinery company has loaned machinery and an instructor and the St. Louis Provident Association has sent 100 pairs of shoes to be repaired.
The annual sale of articles made in the workshop will open March 17 at Grand-Leader.

KING ASSAILS SELFISH AIMS OF STATESMEN

Boris Talks of Misery All Over World and How Bulgaria Tries to Keep Peace.

By the Associated Press.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, March 11.—King Boris is greatly concerned over the disturbing situation in the Balkans. The relations between Bulgaria and Jugo-Slavia are badly strained, the trouble between the two countries being of long standing, but accentuated recently by border clashes.

The Bulgarian Government is endeavoring to suppress the Macedonian insurgents, who have been causing the Serbs, now incorporated in the Jugo-Slavia state, much trouble by incursions.

King Boris reviewed with the Associated Press correspondent the general situation, voicing a strong plea for harmony.

"I hope from the bottom of my heart," said the King, "that no new developments will arise to endanger the peace of the Balkans, or disturbing events in the Balkans cannot fail to disturb the rest of the world and mankind cannot afford to face new uncertainties."

Ready for Sacrifices.—"The policy of Bulgaria is directed toward the maintenance of peace in the Balkans. We are weary of torment and tragedy; any policy of irritation of our neighbors or revenge would be suicidal to Bulgaria. All our efforts are directed to the avoidance of even the appearance of a lurking desire to disquiet our neighbors. "Handwork of America."—"We beg the world to believe us and make it possible for us to attain our purpose, which is not in conflict with the interest of any states in the Balkans of the world."

"I hope especially that America will understand us. The world destinies are largely in the hands of America. From America my people for many years past have received friendly aid and sympathy in their educational efforts. Bulgaria is largely the handwork of America."

Abolishment of the Made Possible By the of Turkish Nation

Mustapha Kemal Supreme Republic; Effect on M Yet to Be S

By PETER VISCHER.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Men's hearts and souls are again agitated by the white heat of nationalism. How gently glow the fires of religious fervor which have been kindled in the minds of more than 12 centuries, at times with such ferocity as to threaten the destruction of the Caliphate has been the Turkish National Assembly.

The Turkish National Assembly declared the Caliphate deposed and the Caliphate abolished. A few years ago one might have dreamed of the Caliphate's annihilation. The Caliphate has been the Caliphate and the Caliphate no more.

Did Not Come as a Surprise. But now the action of the Turkish Nationalists does not come as a surprise. In November of 1922, Mustapha Kemal, Turkey's new hero, and his Assembly abolished the Sultanate and, for the first time, the death of Mohammed, in 11, separated the Sultanate from the Caliphate—severed the temporal powers of the ruler of Islam from the religious.

On that eventful occasion—eventful because it marked the end of a reign which had been the most glorious combination of state and church the world had ever known—Mustapha Kemal, the new hero, was elected Caliph. And now, not because he wasn't friendly to the Nationalist cause, but because it was thought the time had come when the Caliph could be set away without arousing too serious objection, he, too, has been dropped.

Mustapha Kemal is supreme in Turkey. Because he is the leader of a great stirring movement, the Nationalist movement, it matters not what else he may do. He can be Sultan and Caliph in one if he wants to. But he prefers to be president of the Republic of Turkey, a republic on the upgrade. So matters not what he did with the dying Caliphate, any more than matters what he did with the dead Sultanate.

What effect the ending of the Caliphate will have on Mohammedanism remains to be seen. Perhaps the fervor of the Nationalist movement will give that great religion, which rules a world of 19,000,000 persons, a new life, just as, for many centuries the fervor of a spreading Mohammedanism has been increasing tribute to the medieval empire of Islam.

Reemancipates Religion. The religion for many long years enervated the empire. Perhaps now the aroused nationalism of the empire—it calls itself a republic—will reemancipate the religion. Certain it is that church and state, as expressed in a combined Sultanate and Caliphate, lived and grew for many centuries; probably now, expressed in a National Assembly, it will live and grow for many more.

The world is watching. Indeed, the two greatest in control of Muslim countries—England and France—are so concerned over the outcome that they are nominating rival candidates for the empty post of Commander of the Faithful. England would like to see victory in the hands of King Hussein of Mecca, who rules over the sacred City of Mecca. France favors the Sultan of Morocco, Moulay Youssef, his friend and protégé.

Mustapha Kemal, it is understood, ignores these claims. He has simply washed his hands of the Western political scheme and would be satisfied to have half a dozen great men of the world, hoping that their squabbles would successfully put an end to its dying gasps. Said Bey, Turkish Minister of Justice and an authority on Moslem religious law, has indeed announced that there is no authority in the Koran to justify the existence of the Caliphate; the holds that it was an extraneous political growth entirely without the divine inspiration generally attributed to it.

A Flexible Creed. The Koran is the sole inspiration of Mohammedanism, which, despite its uncompromising dogmatism, is the most flexible of modern creeds. Probably no religion, with the possible exception of Hinduism, can boast Islam for its variety of practice. That is perhaps a logical legacy of having absorbed too rapidly a great many backward races. Superhuman efforts are now being made to reconcile to Islamic dogma the undigested and backward elements absorbed by the religion in its march. It has been an easier task since the Young Turk movement, since the success won by Mustapha Kemal at Constantinople, at Lausanne and at Moscow.

W. G. Tinscom-Fernandez, in a recent criticism, made this summary of the situation: "The religion of the modern world is profoundly influenced and ultimately involved during the war as Mohammedanism. Prior the war it was struggling against

McGEEHEE LOSES HIS ARMY COMMISSION

Ousted Klansman-Pastor Held Ineligible to Retain Place in Reserve Corps.

Charles D. McGeehee, who was fired as a minister and member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South because of his Ku Klux Klan activities, has been fired as a Chaplain of the Army Reserve Corps because he is no longer a clergyman. He had a job as a national lecturer for the Klan to keep him busy, at last accounts.

Representatives of the American Legion had protested against McGeehee's service as a chaplain. He was expelled from the pastorate and church a number of weeks ago. Announcement of his dismissal from the Reserve Corps of spiritual leaders of soldiers was made from the local executive office of the Seventh Army Corps Area today, which yesterday received the order from area headquarters at Omaha, Neb.

The announcement states that McGeehee's commission as a First Lieutenant has been canceled, and goes on:

"When McGeehee recently was tried by an ecclesiastical court and found guilty of being a member of the Ku Klux Klan, he was expelled from the pastorate and church. He was also expelled from the Reserve Corps of spiritual leaders of soldiers."

deprived of it of his standing as a minister of the Gospel, he no longer was qualified to hold his reserve commission. The regulations on this point state that, to be eligible, the individual must be a minister in good standing in some denomination.

"The War Department consequently was informed of these facts, a copy of the proceedings of the church trial were forwarded, and the cancellation followed. His commission was not taken away for any other reason."

"McGeehee voluntarily enlisted in the army during the war, served as a chaplain in camps in the United States, and was discharged in 1918. At that time he accepted a commission as a First Lieutenant, chaplain, Officers' Reserve Corps, which expired on Dec. 12, 1923. In a routine manner the War Department tendered him a reappointment, which he accepted on Dec. 10, 1923. He merely has to go before a notary public and be sworn in by taking his oath of office and forwarding it to Washington, which he did. His commission was to be good for five years. His loss of his standing as a minister resulted in his becoming ineligible to hold his commission and it was canceled."

CALIPHATE ABOLISHMENT MADE POSSIBLE BY NATIONALIST MOVEMENT

the first of all that line who was without temporal power. The Osman dynasty, then, ruled seven centuries.

Osman's grandson, Suleiman, established an Ottoman fortress at Gallipoli, Adrianople soon fell. Then, at the famous battle of Kosovo, the Turks gained control of most of the Balkan Peninsula. In 1402 the Turks, however, were nearly annihilated by the Tartars, but they survived and soon resumed the aggressive in Europe. In 1453 they captured Constantinople, and the great church of Santa Sophia was transformed into a mosque.

Zenith of Power.
The zenith of Ottoman power was reached under Suleiman the Magnificent, in the middle of the Sixteenth Century, when the Turkish Empire extended from the frontiers of Germany to those of Persia, and in Africa from the Siwaite Peninsula to the Pillars of Hercules. Thereafter internal dissensions and corruption slowly but steadily caused decay and disintegration, greatly promoted by the rising power and remorseless aggressions of Russia.

At the close of the Napoleonic wars Serbia became largely autonomous, and Mehmet Ali made Egypt all but independent. The Greek revolt secured the independence of that country in 1829. After the Crimean War a new era seemed to have dawned for what was left of Turkey, that empire being then for the first time admitted as an equal to the European family of nations.

But in 1861 Abdul-Asia became Sultan and embarked upon a career of unparalleled financial extravagance which hastened the empire toward bankruptcy.

The "Bulgarian atrocities" exposed by the American reporters, J. A. MacGahan and Eugene Schuyler, in 1875-'76, roused the wrath of Europe and provoked intervention. Abdul Aziz was deposed and committed suicide, and Murad V reigned in his place. Rumania declared war and was joined by Russia, and at the congress of Berlin in 1878 the Ottoman empire in Europe was reduced to a mere fragment of its former extent.

Young Turks Revolt.
Meantime Murad was deposed and his brother, Abdul Hamid, "Abdul the Damned," became Sultan, and for four years committed atrocities far surpassing any known before. There followed the Greek War, and then the young Turk revolution of 1908, when the Sultan was forced to grant a constitution. Abdul Hamid was deposed in 1909 and his younger brother, Mohammed V, was put into his place. Then came the Cretan revolution and the Balkan War, which further reduced the dwindling empire.

In the World War Turkey was the ally, the tool and the victim of Germany. The young Turks revolted against the Sultan and refused to obey his rule. In July, 1918, Mohammed V was succeeded by his brother, Mohammed VI, under whom the empire was increasingly hostile; their Government at Constantinople, made by the Constantinople Government, was rejected by them, and a formidable campaign was organized for expelling the Greeks from Anatolia and destroying the Armenian state. This campaign was completely successful and the disposition of the discredited and impotent Sultan has followed as a logical result.

GRAND JURY GETS CHIPPewa BANK CASE TESTIMONY

CARR AT LIBERTY
ON $50,000 BOND

Depositors Will Be Paid
95 Cents on the Dollar.

The grand jury today began hearing testimony concerning the financial difficulties which resulted in the closing of the Chippewa Bank, 3801 South Broadway, following private operations of its cashier and principal, Joseph S. Carr, which involved the bank's accounts to the amount of $719,000 or more.

Carr is at liberty under $50,000 bond to answer any charge that may be placed against him. As has been told, he turned over all his property to reimburse the bank. Circuit Attorney Sidener had a conference this morning with State Finance Commissioner Millspaugh and Deputy Commissioner Gilles, who has been in direct charge of the bank liquidation. Sidener announced that the audit of the bank's accounts had not been completed, but will be before the grand jury investigation ends. The delay in starting the grand jury inquiry, he explained, was at the behest of the State Finance Department, which concluded that delay would be of aid in getting depositors' money back.

Sidener stated, on the strength of information given him, that he believes the depositors will be paid at least 95 cents on the dollar, if not in full. A committee of the Outlying Banks' Association, which was appointed to investigate possible criminal aspects of Carr's operations, yesterday offered Sidener any possible assistance in the investigation, including employment of a special prosecutor, if needed. Sidener may take advantage of the offer of legal assistance.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Representative Zihlman (Rep., Maryland), today renewed his demand that the House authorize a searching investigation of reports that criminal evidence was developed against him and one other member of the House before the Chicago grand jury. Declaring he was guilty of no wrong doing, Zihlman protested on the floor of the House against a recommendation of the Judiciary Committee that the matter be left entirely to the Department of Justice for further investigation.

A fight over the committee's report was precipitated when Representative Dominick, South Carolina, a Democratic member, offered a minority recommendation that the House insist on Attorney-General Daugherty disclosing the names to the House.

PREVENTS STORE ROBBERY

Safe Found Battered After Maplewood Man Summons Police.A citizen who was going to his home at 1 a. m. today prevented the robbery of a Piggy Wiggly store at 7366 Manchester avenue, in the opinion of Chief of Police Caldwell of Maplewood.When this citizen saw the front door of the store open, he reported the circumstance to the police, but when they arrived at the scene several minutes later the store was empty. The safe door was battered and a burglar kit was found.About four months ago this store was held up and $600 taken from the manager. Since that time but

TELLS OF SHIPWRECKGeorgian, Gone Since Last October, Says He Spent Two Months on Island.By the Associated Press.
ALBANY, Ga., March 11.—Returning home after an absence of more than five months, during which he was shipwrecked and spent two months on an island in the West Indies, to find his wife in charge of his office and entered in the primaries to succeed him, Judge William E. Smith, ordinaryof Dougherty County, today resumed his place in the community from which he mysteriously disappeared Oct. 6 last.According to Judge Smith, several years ago he met Frank Rittenhouse of Baltimore at Miami, Fla., and a mutual fondness for the sea and Rittenhouse's possession of a 65-foot power cruiser, led to a warm friendship.On Way to Buenos Aires.
Early in October, soon after Judge Smith left Albany, he said, the two cruised to the Bahama Islands and remained there several days. On Nov. 24, Rittenhouse, Smith and Charles R. Allen, also of Baltimore, left Miami for Buenos Aires.Three weeks later the cruiser was wrecked in a tropical storm and the three white men and a negro member of the crew were washed ashore on an island.

The island, as nearly as they could figure out, is about 125 miles northeast of Santo Domingo, and it had a name the men did not learn it, Judge Smith said.They located several small houses, occupied by fishermen, who spoke either Spanish or French, Judge Smith said. Here they whiled away time, occasionally fishing and subsisting on the crude fare of the islanders.Rescued by Trade Ship.

Finally, according to the story,
a small steamer arrived to trade with the islanders. The shipwrecked party left on it and in about two weeks arrived at Santo Domingo, where they secured passage on a sailing vessel. They arrived in Tampa, Fla., last Wednesday and communicated with their families.Only one accurate report of Judge Smith had reached Albany prior to last Wednesday, when hewired his wife for money on which to get home."The first thing I did when I got money from home," Judge Smith said, "was to get something good to eat. I had lived so long on dried herring and hardtack that I wanted something really good."Autolite Held After Hitting Man.

who was crossing the street in front of 4350 Laclede avenue. Lee was struck by the side of the ma-there is enough against Williams now without bothering the cashier of William's Kansas bank, wherehe has 32 cents on deposit, according to a wire yesterday.Williams was arrested Sunday after touring the city in a taxicab distributing "Ku Klux knives." The chauffeur had cashed some checks which are not considered good.

Williams' alibi was that he was drunk and didn't remember what happened. A gold Federal badge stolen from a secret service operative who lives at the Maryland Hotel was found behind a picture in Williams' room yesterday. He has no recollection of having a badge, he says.Williams said he was a member of the Pittsburg (Kan.) klan, and came to St. Louis representing a

PATROLMAN RETAINS MEDAL AS MARKSMAN

Frank Evans of Carr Street District Wins Honors Again in Annual Contest.

For days and days a poor make-believe man has been darting across the third floor of the Laclede Avenue District Police Station at Laclede and Lettingwell avenues, acting much like a crook night when caught with the goods. And day by day policemen have been there to riddle the make-believe man with bullets.

Not that it made any difference to the alleged man. He was merely a card-board target, shaped to represent a man, and it was all in the day's work. But to those who fired on him, it meant something—they were competing for the annual gold medal awarded to the best marksman in the Police Department.

A total of 1558 policemen entered the survival-of-the-straightest tournament, but only 156 reached the finals. The finalists had all hit the target at least 150, but of a possible 200 times, so another and smaller make-believe man was substituted. He, too, scurried across the floor only to be "potted" repeatedly. The firing ceased a few days ago and the targets were put in storage. Since then the whole department has been awaiting announcement of the winner.

Evans Retains Medal.

The winner is Patrolman Frank Evans of the Carr Street District. He won the medal last year, too, and is the first man to repeat since Sgt. Sidney Sears, undisputed champion for 20 years, was defeated in 1916. This year Evans tied with Patrolman Hardy W. Doerr of the same district, both hitting 190 times out of 200, the best record since the tournament was inaugurated. In the shoot-off, Evans hit 192 and Doerr 179. Evans winning. Evans also won this year the medal awarded for the best marksman in his district. Evans is 32 years old, married and resides at 4444 Arco avenue. He joined the force in 1917 and modestly admits all he has learned about shooting has been gained since that year. His record of 190 hits out of 200 shots is all the more remarkable when it is considered the policemen shoot at the department targets only once a year and that without any practice. Evans is now wearing the 1933 medal and the two which he has won this year will be presented to him next fall during the annual police parade.

Other finalists, whose lowest scores averaged 90 per cent efficiency, were: Patrolmen Blackford, 185; Thie, 185; Cassidy, 184; Myers (winner of the 1932 medal), 183; Copeland, 182; Aris, 182; Seamen, 182; Hawthorne, 181; Burns, 181; Nary Phillips (winner in 1931), 181; Bosa, 180; Speckman, 180; Horn, 180; Detective Jordan, 180; and Sgt. Stanton, 180.

In the competition for medals awarded to districts, better scores were made as the larger target was used. The winners and their scores were: Headquarters Detective Bureau, Detective J. H. Crane, 299 hits out of 300 shots; Traffic Division, Patrolman Henry Myers, 290; Mounted District, Patrolman W. Kountz, 299; Central, Sgt. Mose Drennan, 299; Carondelet, Patrolman Fred Speckman; Wyoming, Patrolman Valleroy, 297; Souldar, Patrolman Wittkopf, 296; Carr, Patrolman Frank Evans, 300; North Market, Patrolman Van Stratten, 299; Angelica, Patrolman Nary Phillips, 290; Magnolia, Patrolman Lewis, 295; Laclede, Patrolman Rowie, 299; Dayton, Patrolman Burns, 297; Deer, Criswell, 300; Newstead, Sgt. Stanton, 300; and Page, Patrolman Cagel, 299.

In announcing the scores, Drillmaster T. Rosser Roemer, in charge of the annual tournament, terms the results remarkable and compliments the contestants on their accuracy. Of the 156 finalists, he points out, two averaged 95 per cent efficiency, 15 ranged between 94 and 90, 70 between 89 and 80, 46 between 79 and 70, and 23 between 69 and 60. The smaller target used by the finalists conformed with official army and navy regulations.

SENATE DEFEATS FARM RELIEF MEASURE, 34 TO 28

Proposal Was to appropriate $5,000,000 to Finance Fertilizer Purchases.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—In the first record vote of the session on a farm relief measure, the Senate yesterday defeated, 34 to 28, the proposed appropriation of $5,000,000 to be used in financing fertilizer purchases.

Party lines were not discernible in the result, Southern Democrats and Eastern Republicans joining in opposition to the proposal which was denounced as "communistic in theory" entailing an unwarranted intrusion of the Government into an already highly competitive business.

The appropriation was proposed as an amendment, offered by Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia, to the Norbeck-Burns bill, which would appropriate $75,000,000 to finance diversification of crops among "one crop" farmers. Objections to the Harris amendment were laid also against the parent measure.

Opposition to the fertilizer item was voiced from both sides of the chamber on the ground that it was unconstitutional. Democratic Senator, generally, also referred at the same time to the Fordney-McCumber tariff, which they asserted was responsible for the existing agrarian situation. Practically every Senator on the floor participated in the debate. Reed of Missouri opposed the bill.

8605 ARRESTS DURING

30-DAY CLEANUP DRIVE

Police Probationary Period Ends—Board to Study Results of Campaign.

The police cleanup drive apparently slowed down last night as their 30-day probation period closed and only 91 suspects were taken by raiders over the city.
District commanders asserted, however, that there was no shirking, the criminals just not being around to be arrested.
Yesterday's and last night's arrests bring the total arrests for the period to 8605. All reports have been forwarded to President Brockman.
Brockman said today that from his first perusal of records of the 30-day results-or-resignations drive which ended last night it was "highly satisfactory." This is taken to mean that there have been results and that there will be no resignations, unless further study of the report changes his viewpoint.

"The drive to clean up the crooks must go on," Brockman said in addition. "There must be not let down in police vigilance.
The recreation days of the men will be restored gradually as it is demonstrated the Department can hold the crime situation in check."
He said that he had studied the reports only superficially, and that he and other members of the Board would make a detailed examination later. All reports will be submitted to the Board at this afternoon's meeting, but because of five trials set for today, the Commissioners will have little opportunity for immediate decision in the matter.

Arthur Grosse reported that burglars entered his drugstore at 4149 South Grand boulevard some time last evening and took $230 in drugs and sundries, and $40 in cash.
Sneak thieves used a skeleton key to enter the home of Mrs. Flora Noble of 2630 Madison street yesterday afternoon and took $52.06 in cash which Mrs. Noble had placed under the living-room rug.
Burglars entered the apartment of Jerome F. Duggan at 2679 Lafayette avenue last evening and stole a $550 diamond ring belonging to Mrs. Duggan, which she had concealed in a medicine closet in the bathroom.
Two men held up James Lynch of 31 North Newstead avenue at Taylor and Laclede avenues last night and fired a shot at him when he ran at their orders to put up his hands. He escaped unhurt.

Sisler Gives Up All Idea of Attempting to Pitch; Not Yet Sure He Will Be Back at First

"I Can't See Myself, Ask the Other Fellows." He Replies to Interviewers Request for a Statement—Will Face His First Curve Ball Pitching, Soon.

By J. Roy Stockton,
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

MOBILE, Ala., March 11.—George Sisler announced after yesterday's practice session that his eyes felt better than ever. In batting practice he punched the ball hard, crashing it on the line to right field and dropping Texas leaguers in left.

"I don't believe I hit the ball as hard as I did other days," said George, "but I felt that I could see better. That's what makes me so well satisfied with my prospects. My improvement is steady. I won't say yet that I will play or will not. But I am very well pleased with the way things are progressing."

George won't go on record, but he indicates by his actions that he is counting on guarding first base. In the first place he admits that he has given up the idea of trying to pitch for the Browns.

"I still believe I could go in there and pitch major league ball," said George. "But that idea was strongest when I was in California and was doubtful about my ability to do anything else." George stopped abruptly as if he was afraid he had given himself away.

And he had. He has abandoned the idea of pitching—not because he can't, but because he is convinced that he will be able to serve at first base. But he tells you to go out and talk to the players, when you ask him whether he will play.

"I can't see myself. Ask the fellows," he insists.

Rice Tops Hot Corner Candidates.

Cold weather interfered with training slightly, but the men spent two hours and a half at the park. There was a long session with the third base candidates. Orders were to be careful not to risk hitting arms and throws were not as snappy as on previous warmer days. Rice, Simon, Ezzell, Ellerbe and Robertson were coached at length on fielding bunts with throws to the plate and first base. Rice still stands out as first choice if he can field.

Austin Teaches Bunting.

Austin devoted a long session to teaching the pitchers how to bunt and in straight batting practice for the hitters. Then the regulars had batting practice, with all the pitchers having a short session on the mound. Sisler has assigned the job of developing the pitching staff to Austin.

George says it is not necessary for him to be so helpful with the bat. He cites the case of men like Bush, Lile and other hitters who frequently win games by their ability to deliver with the stick. Young pitchers who can do damage with the willow will be given every chance at the Browns camp. George is strong for hitting pitchers.

Sisler said last night that he favored Tony Rago as his third string catcher, though it would be a contest between Rago and

Intelligent Hurling Would Cut Down Ruth's Homers, Sisler Thinks

From a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MOBILE, Ala., March 11. BASEBALL writer who had been watching the Yankees at New Orleans informed George Sisler yesterday that Babe Ruth had announced his intention of setting a new home-run record this year. Ruth was quoted as saying that the new rule permitting old balls would give the pitchers more confidence and that he did not expect to be given so many bases on balls.

"Ruth won't hit so many home runs if he is pitched to intelligently," Sisler suggested, indicating that the Browns will not be guilty of passing the Bimbo intentionally. "I do not mean that Ruth is not dangerous. He is always dangerous. But if pitched to intelligently his home run total will not approach his record."

"Eddie Cicotte never gave Ruth an intentional base on balls, and yet Ruth never hit Cicotte for a home run. He hit only one home run off Hubert Pruet and that was on a fast ball. That, incidentally, was the only fast ball that Pruet pitched in the game. I don't have to tell you how many Pruet will serve Ruth this year, do I?"

Schulte, Rago's superior throwing arm makes him the favorite.

Base Stealing to Be Revived.

"There's going to be more attempts to steal bases this year," the Browns' manager declared. "The rule keeping the balls in the pitchers' hands is going to help the stealers. There will not be so much hitting. The result will be that base runners cannot wait to be driven around. I look for a revival of the art of base stealing."

Sisler announced that there would be a practice game this afternoon. McManus and Gerber, who took their first workouts yesterday, will be in the game.

Sisler also announced that in a day or two he would let pitchers work four innings each and that soon he would issue orders for the flingers to start hooking the ball. It will be interesting to see how George fares at bat when the pitchers deliver their plain and fancy curves.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Now It Comes Out.

WHEN Renato Gardini threw Ed Lewis out of the ring twice and hurled him against the post on a third attempt, in their wrestling match at the Coliseum, it opened the eyes of the cognoscenti. It seemed a bit theatrical not to say impossible.

When Pat McGill, a few nights later, hurled Lewis out of a New York ring five times, it seemed incredible. The carpers began to carp.

But what will they think when they read the following report of the recent activities of Champion Lewis along the line of introducing high and lofty tumbling as one of many historic features of his wrestling exhibitions.

Here is a list of ring departures that occurred at Boston Lewis' recent matches, compiled by a Chicago correspondent:

Strangler Lewis—Carl Zickman match at Chicago; Lewis thrown out of the ring three times by Zickman.

Strangler Lewis—Pat McGill match at New York; Lewis thrown out of the ring five times by McGill.

Strangler Lewis—Elmer Saunders match at Des Moines; Lewis thrown out of the ring three times by Saunders.

Strangler Lewis—George Kotsonaros match at St. Louis; Lewis thrown out of the ring twice by Kotsonaros. Finished last fall by taking a punch at Kotsonaros' jaw.

Strangler Lewis—Toots Mond match at Kansas City; Lewis thrown out of ring twice by Mond.

Strangler Lewis—Stanislav Zhyzka match at Chicago; Lewis thrown out of ring once by Zhyzka's jaw.

Strangler Lewis—Renato Gardini match at St. Louis; Lewis thrown from ring twice by Gardini.

Barnum Was Right.

FUNDAMENTALLY perhaps there was no crime contemplated in all this. The performers merely took a leaf from the Book of Barnum. The likelihood to see Ed thrown from the ring, seemingly, so they handed it to him.

The best man won each match so that all that really happened was to inject a little acrobatics into the wrestling. It is true a false impression of the strength of Lewis' opponents was gained in this way; but what are few false impressions more or less to a boob public whose sole right is to wake up and kick in with a $5 bill?

One of the amazing facts about wrestling is that the fans will pay real money for exhibitions of big men, but won't come through with enough to pay hall rent for a real match among little fellows.

Some beef trust exhibitions here have brought out $3000 and up. But one great lightweight championship bout, lured only $100 to the box office.

Hats off to Barnum—he had the goods on us.

"Pro" Boxing Kayod.

ONLY a little wiggle from the moribund professional boxing game has been observed here since the advent of James C. Mullen and his money-no-object campaign.

This wiggle was furnished by the South Broadway Athletic club, which recently held a professional boxing show—to its sorrow. About enough to pay for the lights was taken in.

On the other hand at the amateur boxing show, held by the same club a few nights later, the house was packed. Which seems to indicate that the amateur is coming into his own again.

Alas! Past experience proves that when the amateur gains popularity and there is a demand for his services at various clubs, the tin watch and the 10-karat medal fail to interest him. He becomes a gold digger and too often the clubs help him dig.

In other words, the amateur of today is an amateur until his specialty becomes marketable. And then the fun begins—for the A. A. U. at least.

Up to Stecher to Select First Foe

London and Gardini Wanted to Toss Coin for Right to Open Double Mat Match.

Joe Stecher, former wrestling champion and once more the "logical candidate," entertained a crowd of 300 spectators with a speedy workout, yesterday afternoon, at the National Athletic Association Gymnasium, working half an hour with Billy Schober and about 15 minutes with Anton Stecher, his brother and manager.

The Nebraska's workout indicated that he is speeding up his offense in preparation for his match with Jim London and Gardini tomorrow night. He tried out many variations of the body scissors held on his training partners.

Although London and Renato Gardini insist that Promoter Tom Packs toss a coin to decide which of the two heavyweight grapplers will be the first to oppose Joe Stecher in their double match at the Coliseum tomorrow night, the local mat impresario has declined this proposition and has notified the wrestlers that it will be up to Stecher to decide for himself which man he desires to tackle at the start of his bout.

"All I expect of Stecher is that he enter the ring and fulfill his agreement to try to throw both Gardini and London within two hours," said Packs today. "I have notified him that his opponents will not consent to an intermission and that I must hold him to the terms of his challenge, which did not call for a rest period between falls. The challenge did not contain any stipulation as to which man would enter the ring first to oppose Stecher. I believe therefore that it is only fair to let him make the selection himself."

St. Louis Gets Numeral.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 11.—H. W. Miller of St. Louis and James Messner of Kirkwood were among those who received fornum numeral numerals this week.

He had played summer baseball. Is there no way in which the A. A. U. could restore the records and achievements of these men to publicity? At present, for all the A. A. U. records show, these men never existed. Yet at least part of their amazing performances were achieved as amateurs.

ILLINOIS CERTAIN OF SECOND PLACE AFTER BEATING MINNESOTA

By Associated Press.

URBANA, Ill., March 11.—Illinois defeated Minnesota in a rough game here last night, 21 to 13. The victory which ended the season for both teams assures the Illini at least second place in the conference basketball race with a chance to tie for first if Wisconsin beats Chicago Saturday.

"Slim" Stowell, Illinois center, was the scoring star of the game, without having made a single field goal. Stowell was fouled eight times by the Minnesota players, six of the fouls being committed when he was close under the basket and he scored 11 points on free throws.

Otto Stein, Jr., In Fifth Place In All-Events

St. Louis Bowler Has 1900 Total, 4 Pins Behind Rudi Meyer.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Rudi Meyer's 701 total was again bettered in the individual event of the American Bowling Congress tourney today, the St. Louis bowler being pushed into fifth place when Hank Morbach of Chicago turned in games of 224, 235 and 253 for a 707 total and smashed his way into third place in the solo event standings of the major pin event.

Glenn Riddell, considered for many years as one of the greatest bowlers of the East, pulled up with a 661 total after a sensational start. The New York man opened the solo event with a count of 224 and followed with a 244 game. With a great chance of overtaking Frank Kair and setting a new record within his grasp, the Gotham man wavered at the finish, counting 176 in his final game with one error and two splits. He wound up with a mark of 661.

Paul Wilson of Chicago tallied 613 on the noon squad, and numerous other performers beat the 499 mark. Al Toemmel who was teamed with Wilson, opened his last game in the individuals with eight consecutive strikes, left the No. 10 pin on a seemingly perfect hit in the ninth frame and the No. 7 in the tenth, spotting his chances for high single game of the tourney.

Otto Stein Jr. of St. Louis forged into fifth place in the all-events when he hit the select 1900 circle. His 178 in the singles and his 669 in the doubles, combined with his 462 in the team event, totaled Sunday night, gave him a total of 1900, just four pins behind Rudi Meyer of St. Louis.

Announcement was made of a meeting between Jim Blouin of Chicago and Jimmy Smith of Milwaukee for the championship. The games will be rolled in Cleveland soon, the exact date to be made known.

Last Night's Fights

MEMPHIS.—Pat Moore, Memphis boxer, was awarded the decision over Pascal Colletti of New Orleans after eight rounds.

PHILADELPHIA.—Ray Mitchell of Philadelphia won the judge's decision over Eddie Friedman of Chicago in a 10-round bout here last night. Their weights were announced as 128½ pounds each.

PITTSBURGH.—A scheduled 10-round fight between Nicky Walker of Philadelphia and Mike Dempsy of Rochester, N. Y., was stopped in the fifth round by referee Joe Keeler, who said the fighters were stalling. He awarded a technical knockout to Walker. Both fighters were over weight.

HO SPRINGS.—Frank Murphy of Denver was also of his 10 rounds with Billy Brown of Memphis. They were welterweights. Jackie Ross, Memphis boxer, won an easy victory over Bobbie Williams of Shreveport in an eight-round affair.

BROOKLYN.—Charles Goodman, Brooklyn, was declared over Joe Ritchie, Brooklyn, 10 rounds.

DETROIT.—Ted Moore of England shaved his hair of Detroit in 10 rounds. Henry Leonard outpointed Conde Curry of Sioux City in eight and Paul McGraw of Detroit beat Leo Gluschi in eight.

Leacocks Win
In First Round
At Kansas City

Defeat Columbus (Kan.) 48 to 18 in A. A. U. Tournament.

KANSAS CITY, March 11.—The Leacocks, the Kansas City Athletic Club team, last champions, and the Hilltoppers, St. Joseph, Mo., went through the first round of the National A. U. basketball tournament with large margins.

Only one of these teams reached the finals since both are considered likely that they will fight it out for the final. The Leacocks won the first round of the tournament by a score of 48 to 18. From the beginning until the end the Leacocks played the game with the half-way mark.

The scoring was pretty even divided between the two forward Deal and Cummings, and the center, Rhinehardt. Russell, center, and guard, played a nice game and aided the offense materially.

Six teams were eliminated in the competition yesterday and six will go the same route in today's first round play in the lower bracket. Four of the teams entered today in the first round. The second round will be played tomorrow.

The results yesterday: Southwestern College, Winfield, Kan., 30; Peru, Neb., Normal, Leacocks, St. Louis, 48; A. A. U. Club, Columbus, Kan., 18; Keller, Republic, Kansas City, 34; Southwestern State Normal, Weatherford, Ok., 22; Kansas City Athletic Club, 48; Fairmount College, Wichita, Kan., 18; Hilltoppers, St. Joseph, Mo., 18; Stillwater, Ok., Independents, 18; Harbors, Minn., All-Stars, 24; Washburn College, Topeka, Kan., 18; Haledale, Kan., Athletics, 18; Warrensburg, Mo., State Teachers, 18; College of Emporia, 18.

Young Men's Hebrew Club, New Orleans, vs. Olympic Club, San Francisco; South Side Turners, Indianapolis, vs. New York United, Chicago; Schooley-Woodstock, Kansas City, vs. Clare Post, American Legion, Lees Summit, Mo.; Lamar College, Galesburg, Ill., vs. Hosiery, Kan., Athletic Club.

IVAN PARKE LOSES
WEIGHT ALLOWANCE

NEW ORLEANS, March 11.—Ivan Parke, the Delco, Idaho, lad who forged his way to the front rank of American jockeys last season, lost his five pounds allowance at midnight Sunday and was defeated by riding top at Jefferson Park yesterday. It was a full fledged jockey.

Parke won his first race March 1, 1923, at Tia Juana and under the rules lost his apprentice allowance one year from that date. The followers have figured that the loss of the "bug" would make no difference to a rider of Parke's caliber. In his first race yesterday, the second event on the card, Parke won, astride Sister Josella. He finished eighth in the third race, Princess Jane and fifth in the fourth event with Dazzler.

The Report That Dempsey Is Afraid to Meet Harry Wills Appears to Be Rather Highly Colored

Dempsey Refuses $500,000 Bid for Bout With Wills

Manager of Champion Declines There's No Public Demand for the Bout.

Champion Will Fight
Only Two Foes in 1924,
Tom Gibbons and Firpo

NEW YORK, March 11.—BOM a potpourri of affirmations, claims and denials in circulation today, on matters of heavyweight business, it was declared on good authority that there would be only two heavyweight championship bouts held this summer: Jack Dempsey vs. Tom Gibbons, in New York during the early part of June; Jack Dempsey vs. Luis Firpo in Jersey City early in September.

The rest of the chatter is so much nonsense. Wills, Rojas and all others are out of the picture.

By Bert Igoe,
Western Boxing Authority for the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, sitting in state in his palatial offices in the Fitzgerald Building, in this city, yesterday, turned down the offer of a new "syndicate" to hold a championship bout between the world's heavyweight champion and Harry Wills, at Cumberland, R. I., on July 4.

The "syndicate," with a far more visible showing of cards on the table than the syndicate headed by Lew Raymond, called on Kearns. After listening patiently to all that they had to say, Kearns told them that he would not consider a bout between Wills and Dempsey at this time. In fact he gave the proposition the deadly chill.

John Griffin and James McGinnis, head of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Rhode Island, came with collateral covering $150,000 as part payment of the guarantee of $500,000 which this new syndicate stands ready to spend on the bout.

Besides this, the gentleman from Rhode Island exhibited a cancelled check, proving that they had obtained and paid for a license to hold the bout, evidence that they really had permission to conduct such an undertaking.

Kearns told them that he did not care to tie up himself and Dempsey in negotiations for a bout with Wills.

"Wills Bout Not Wanted"—Kearns. "I am not sure that the public wants such a bout," Kearns told them. "If the public demands a bout between the champion and Wills then I will be only too glad to talk business. I don't think that it is in demand and that it is advisable to talk of such a bout at this time. If there would be a concentrated protest against such a bout, I might lead to the end of boxing. I don't want Dempsey to be blamed for that."

"I think," said Kearns, "in fact I'm sure that the public demands a return bout between Dempsey and Firpo. That's the bout, you know. I will consider that one before any other."

Kearns told newspaper men after the conference with the Rhode Islanders that Dempsey would not box anybody until June. In talking over their conference with Kearns the Rhode Island promoters stated that Kearns had told them that Dempsey would not box until September.

Has Movie Plans for Champion. "Dempsey," said Kearns, "has moving picture offers that he will accept without a doubt, and if he does, this work will keep him busy for at least 10 or 12 weeks."

"Firpo Who Busy." "Can't touch it," said McCarnay, leaning back in a $500 mahogany chair given him by Firpo. "Firpo is all booked up until August. He couldn't tie himself up before that time in any manner. Theatrical work here is going to keep him busy. After he is through with the footlights and other engagements he will prepare for a return bout with Dempsey."

Tex Rickard, in speaking of the Rhode Island offer, grinned good-humoredly.

"Who are the men who want to promote this bout? Where is Cumberland, R. I., and who would go there to see a bout?" he queried.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Twelve champions will defend their titles at the senior metropolitan indoor track and field championships at Madison Square Garden tonight. Loren Murchison, Orville Wanser, Dick Landon, Vincent Lally, Carl Christensen and other stars of the indoor season will compete. New York A. C. and Newark A. C. are the most important rivals for the team score.

Baseball Losing Ground to Golf,
Young Pro Says

Harold Long, St. Louis Product, Believes Scotch Game Will Be America's.

Harold Long, 22-year-old golf professional of the Pontiac, Ill., Country Club, who is a graduate of the caddy ranks in St. Louis, likes baseball but believes that its title as "America's National Game" is seriously menaced. He notes that boys of school age are, in increasing numbers, deserting corner-lot diamonds for park and club links, where their services as caddies bring them into direct touch with a new national game. Baseball will never lose its following but it will lose a considerable portion of youthful possibilities who are turning to golf, Long believes.

Long passed through St. Louis yesterday on his return from the South, where he participated in four tournaments with such noted professionals as Joe Kirkwood, Bobby Cruikshank, Johnny Farrell and Bill Mehlhorn. In the New Orleans tournament, Long finished sixth, one stroke ahead of Mehlhorn. Playing with Dr. L. J. Williamson, he won the amateur-pro best ball event.

The Immediate Reward. "I am not attempting to minimize baseball's position," Long said. "I grant that it is a wonderful game and I like to see two good teams play. But it must be granted that where boys formerly rushed from school to the baseball field, they are now seeking out the golf links. The advantage is two-fold. They can make spending money caddying and they are permitted to enter caddy tournaments where they can develop their game. It is a greater pleasure to win a tournament yourself than to be one of nine persons who assist in winning a baseball game."

"Golf has the further advantage of being open to persons of all ages. The man of 50 can get just as much pleasure out of a good game as one half his age. It is good exercise but not too strenuous. Few men over 35 years of age can play baseball and enjoy it. Golf begins to draw them at that age. Instead of sitting, through nine innings of baseball Sunday afternoon, they will play 18 holes of golf."

"That is where golf gains. It is taking the boys who formerly went into baseball and it reaches out to the men who have passed the baseball age and interests them."

"Baseball, of course, will never die out. Boys who live in localities where there are no courses will continue to play ball and will offer a large field from which baseball may draw. But baseball will have to share its popularity with golf and is likely to be overshadowed."

Long is well pleased with his showing in the South and hopes eventually to rank with the Hagens and the Sarazens although he realizes it is a long road. He intends to enter the National and Western open tournaments and believes that the experience he gained in competing with stars this winter will be of value to him.

Cardinals Face Brooklyn Today
With a Badly Crippled Lineup

Bottomley Is Unable to Hold Down First Base, Lavan Will Be in at Short and Recruit Catchers Will Receive Haines' Hurling, Owing to Clemmons' Injury.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 11.—Without the services of Jim Bottomley, with a recruit outfielder in one of the gardens, Lavan at short and a pair of kid catchers in action, the Cardinals today will try conclusions with the Brooklyn Dodgers in their first real exhibition game of the 1924 season.

Bottomley is rounding to physical form slowly and, therefore, he will not be asked to take part in today's contest. Douthitt, the outfielder chosen to play right, "has everything" apparently, in the defensive line and is a speedster on the base paths. Whether he can hit will be decided by his work in the next few weeks.

Lavan is at short because Freigau, probably the regular occupant of that position this year, will play first in Bottomley's place. As to the two young catchers, Vick and Holm, it is likely that they loom up as regulars, inasmuch as no receiver in this camp appears sure of the first-string job. Naturally, one thinks of Clemmons, in that connection, but the tubby gentleman will be unable to work for some time and may not get back for another week or 10 days.

Haines to Face Dodgers. However spotted the rest of Rickey's lineup may be, the pitching will be well taken care of today, for Jess Haines, now the admitted ace of the Card corps, will be chosen to start against the invading Dodgers.

Jess is slated for a three or four inning session and will be supported by Eddie Dyer, suspected of being a real southpaw. A third moundman will take the reins from Dyer and finish the game.

The Brooklyn team likewise will have a scrambled lineup. Fournier, former St. Louis player, has not yet reported and will not be available. In his place, Miguel Gonzales, who was once a receiver for the Cards, will perform. Johnston, Olson, French and High are expected to make up the Brooklyn infield with Gene Bailey, Nels, Wheat and Tom Griffith rounding the outer defenses.

Dodgers' Catching Staff Good. Manager Robinson has in Deberry and Taylor, two young and efficient catchers, and both will get into the fray this afternoon.

Today's contest is the first of 23 exhibitions to be played by the Cardinals with major and high minor league clubs. The Boston Braves are due in this camp Thursday while the day following the Rickermans will wander over the Manatee Bridge to exchange compliments with the Milwaukee Brewers, at Palmetto. Next Saturday the Giants will be hosts to St. Louis at Sarasota.

So, from today, the Cardinals will be kept busy playing varied and various opponents. They leave camp April 7, play three games en route North, and oppose the Browns at home, Saturday and Sunday, April 13 and 14.

Bob Emslie, chief of National League umpires, is here for a few days. Weir of the Texas League will umpire today. Bob also may work.

LORD WINS AMATEUR
3-CUSHION MATCH AT CHICAGO IN 69 INNINGS

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 11.—Today's play in the national amateur three-cushion billiard championship brings Robert Lord, national title holder, into action against Louis Vogler of Indianapolis and Earl Patterson of the Chicago A. A. The champion, reinstated after being declared ineligible, is playing two games a day to catch up with the other contenders.

Dr. Andrew Harris, Chicago A. A. meets Otto Spielman, Chicago A. A. and E. H. Wainwright, Pittsburgh, engages Fleming, Hamilton Club, Chicago, in other games scheduled today.

Dr. R. N. Roseow, Baltimore, maintains his lead with four wins and no defeats as a result of his victory over Louis Vogler, 50 to 49 in 95 innings last night. Other results yesterday were: Lord to 37 in 69 innings (best game of the tournament) and Harris defeated Patterson, 50 to 35 in 78 innings.

One Goal Scored
On Bricklayers

Vespers' Opponents Show Strong Defense, Score 8 Times in Cup Games.

Chicago and St. Louis once more will contend for the honor of representing the Middle West against the East in the national soccer championship competition. This is true in both the amateur and the open championships.

The Swedish Americans of Chicago will oppose the Scarlet Runners of Detroit, Sunday, in the amateur cup competition, the winner to meet the Magyar A. C. of Cleveland for the right to oppose the Union Electric of St. Louis.

The Bricklayers, representing Chicago in the professional or open competition, will appear at High School Field here, Sunday, against the Vespers of St. Louis in the western division final. St. Louis has enjoyed an almost unbroken record of triumphs over Chicago teams for the past 15 years and the Vespers rule favorites in their match with the Brickies. The winner of Sunday's game will oppose Fall River in the national final.

Reports from Chicago indicate that there is something novel about this year's Bricklayer team. Here, tofore Chicago teams have not been fast. Now, it is said, speed is one of the dominant notes. There remains an atmosphere of "Scotch" combination play, however, for of the 13 players of the regular squad, nine are imported Scotchmen and the other four are natives of England.

The record of the Bricklayers in cup competition is as follows:

First Round—Bricklayers bye.
Second Round—Bricklayers won by forfeit from the Swedish-Americans.

Third Round—Bricklayers 1, Chicago F. C. 0.

Fourth Round—Bricklayers 2, Flint, Mich. 0.

Fifth Round—Bricklayers 2, Athletics of Chicago 1.

Sixth Round—Bricklayers 1, Detroit Collets 0.

Totals—Bricklayers 8 goals, opponents 1 goal.

that there is something novel about this year's Bricklayer team. Here, tofore Chicago teams have not been fast. Now, it is said, speed is one of the dominant notes. There remains an atmosphere of "Scotch" combination play, however, for of the 13 players of the regular squad, nine are imported Scotchmen and the other four are natives of England.

The record of the Bricklayers in cup competition is as follows:

First Round—Bricklayers bye.

Third Round—Bricklayers 1, Chicago F. C. 0.

Fourth Round—Bricklayers 2, Flint, Mich. 0.

Fifth Round—Bricklayers 2, Athletics of Chicago 1.

Sixth Round—Bricklayers 1, Detroit Collets 0.

Totals—Bricklayers 8 goals, opponents 1 goal.

Schoelt Is Best
Foe for Walker

Welter Champion Must Defend Title by May 5, but Few Rivals Are in Sight.

By Fair Play.
Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, March 11.—While Mickey Walker is going through a list of five or six setups, the fact remains that by virtue of a decision of the New York Athletic Commission the welter champ must fight a real contender before May 5.

Leo Flynn says that Dave Shade is the man for him. This would be an attractive fight if Shade could make the weight without weakening himself. At the same time, insiders believe there would not be a whole lot of doubt as to the outcome.

Frank Flourney, the Madison Square Garden matchmaker, has asked Bert Finch, manager of Frankie Schoelt, if he would sign his man for the projected May bout with Walker. Finch came back quickly with an enthusiastic assent. Since then he has heard nothing.

It looks as if no mistake would be made in picking Schoelt.

516 miles on a gallon in a Ford

Equipped with the New

Stromberg

Carburetor and Hot Spot

This mileage sounds almost impossible but it was accomplished under the direct observance of the American Automobile Association—there was no guessing—no hit or miss measuring. An ordinary stock touring car was used.

When you equip your Ford with the new Stromberg Carburetor and Hot Spot you won't get that many miles on a gallon but you will get thirty or thirty five. Isn't that a lot more mileage than you are now realizing? You can't save money any easier and what's more, you will reduce repair bills due to raw gasoline getting down into the crank case. This Carburetor is designed especially for the Ford—it means complete combustion of every drop of gas.

Users of this Stromberg Carburetor are amazed at the great flexibility it brings about—the increased power, the ease of starting.

Don't waste gasoline—let us put a New Stromberg and Hot Spot on your Ford car today.

More than 135 passenger and truck manufacturers use the Stromberg as Standard Equipment.

Present Day Shoe Perfection

THE fine proportion, the neat workmanship, the marvelous durability of present-day footwear are evidences of the wonderful progress of the shoe manufacturing industry. Probably in no other industry is better exemplified the conquest of the machine over hand operation.

Modern shoe machines operate as though actually imbued with human intelligence. Working with many times the speed and accuracy of the human hand, they turn out the shoes which have made the American people the best shod race in the world.

And still the forces of science, invention and labor continue to advance toward even greater efficiency in shoe manufacturing, spurred on by the guiding hand and strong support of the United Shoe Machinery Corporation.

THREE-DAY INSTITUTE OF POLITICS OPENS

500 Men and Women Enrolled for Session at City Club.

The Institute of Government and Politics conducting a three-day course in American Government under the auspices of the League of Women Voters and Washington University, opened at 10 a. m. today at City Club, Eleventh and Locust streets. Five hundred men and women have enrolled for the course.

Prof. F. W. Shipley, head of the extension department of Washington University, presided at the opening session. Prof. Walton H. Hamilton of Washington, D. C., spoke on "Control of Industry," and Dr. W. J. Shepard, on "The Changing Purpose of the State."

A Round Table luncheon is to be held at Hotel Statler each day of the course. Today Mrs. Elmer McKay, professor of political science at University of Missouri, spoke on "What Citizenship Means to Me," and tomorrow Judge Mary Barthelme, in charge of Chicago's juvenile court, will speak of her experience there.

Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania, will be the guest of honor at a banquet tonight. She will speak on "American Foreign Policy."

The daily sessions of the institute are scheduled for 10 a. m. and 2:15 p. m. all at City Club. Professors of Washington University will be the principal lecturers supplementing the guest speakers. It is the second time that a university has cooperated with a League of Women Voters in conducting an institute of this character. Columbia U. recently did it in New York. The success of the venture is assured, with 500 members enrolled and many other organizations interested in the outcome of the course, the organizers say.

THE REVELATIONS OF A PAID COMPANION

By JANE PHELPS

Author of "My Husband and I," "A Wife's Story," etc.

CHAPTER XXX.

MY JEALOUSY AROUSED.

I DON'T know how I arrived at the conclusion that Mollie cared for Rush Millbank. The surety of it just swept over me. Perhaps she protested her hate too much; it might have been something in her voice, but it came over me with a shock.

I did not love Rush, not consciously; but I had come to consider him my friend, my only one outside of the family. A feeling of jealousy, impotent, came over me. Mollie had so much, was loved and admired by so many, why could she not leave me Rush?

That she was mortified, chagrined, because he had seen her in such a condition was natural. But that she should be so vehement in her expression of dislike was unnatural, as if she were trying to convince herself.

I would watch them, would know if my suspicions were correct. But for days Mollie avoided Rush, kept out of the way when he visited her mother, where before she had made it a point—I now believed—to casually visit the invalid when he was calling.

Barton Ellwood called often, frequently remained to dine with Mr. Ellwood and Guy—Mollie, if she were at home. I had become more accustomed to him, and while still feeling a distrust of his suavity, his clever talk intrigued me. I was now better able to parry his thrusts, to reply to his caustic repartees. Living so long with his kind had sharpened my wits, had given me greater confidence in myself, made me laugh at my fear of him.

One day when chatting with him for a moment I made some remark about men. A remark caused by a book I had been reading.

"But then, Rita, you haven't known many men," he reminded me. "Sometimes I think you have gleaned all your knowledge from Uncle Elmer and Guy."

"You forget yourself," I answered. "No, for you don't know me at all."

"Perhaps you flatter yourself," I rejoined. "And I know you better than you think I do."

He laughed that cynical laugh of his which always angered me. "I'll make you prove it some day."

Then, apropos of nothing: "What kills Mollie nowadays? She's on edge if anyone speaks to her. I hope it isn't Larry Ward. Uncle Elmer never would give his consent to her marrying him."

So Barton had noticed Mollie's changed demeanor, her impatience, had attributed it to her fondness for Larry Ward. She had not foregone any of her pleasures, but seemed languid, talked less of her good times, came home earlier, and had not again, as far as I could judge, indulged in liquor. Her father had regained his old half-loving, half-amused, attitude toward her, but I noticed that Guy watched her closely, a somber look in his eyes.

"If Larry Ward has made a fool of you"—I overheard him say to her, then hurried on.

He, too, had noticed something strange in his sister. His distorted mind rushing to the conclusion that Larry, whom he hated, was to blame.

I tried to stifle my jealous thoughts. Rush was as kind, as thoughtful as ever. He took me for a motor ride every few days chatted as usual, discussed the pictures I had seen, the books I had read, with me. Mr. Ellwood had decided to retain the nurse permanently—at least until his wife showed decided improvement.

I was sure Rush had told him it was necessary, that I was too young, too inexperienced to do my work and also that of a trained nurse. At first Mrs. Ellwood had objected, saying I could do all she required, promising not to let me overdo. But after talking with Rush, she had acquiesced to her husband's desire, and the nurse remained.

I spoke of this, then gradually led the talk around to Mollie. "I am grateful to you for what you did that night," I told him.

"It was nothing. The poor girl is more to be pitied than blamed. The young people nowadays seem to think they must go the pace or get left at the post."

This sounded so like Mollie I was sure they had talked together and once again my jealousy flamed.

"It seems that girls in Mollie's set, wealthy girls, can do anything and get away with it," I responded bitterly.

"I wonder what you, others, would say if I did such things?" Rush turned to me, a strange look on his face.

HEROINES OF HISTORY

Significant Incidents in the Lives of Famous Women

By MARK STUYVESANT

The Charitable Woman Who Still Lives in Good Deeds.

NOW there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha which by interpretation is called Dorcas; this woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did."

This thirty-sixth verse of the Book of Acts in the New Testament is the introduction of the short story of a woman's life who through the centuries has been blessed and revered for the splendid example which she set.

For Dorcas was one of those characters who shed comfort and happiness on all those around her. She devoted her life to the poor. In her case it was not simply a matter of giving money or food to those in distress, for she clothed the poor and widows and orphans. And in so doing she made the garments with her own hands.

In the seven verses in which her life is related a most dramatic scene is described. Dorcas was dead. Her busy hands were quiet for the first time and great was the mourning in the room where she lay.

Suddenly Peter entered. Some friends had sent for the disciple. There lay Dorcas with many poor women around her weeping. When they saw Peter they each in turn showed him the garments which the kind Dorcas had made for them. Then followed the miracle which Peter performed in raising Dorcas from the dead.

This short story ends with the sentence commenting on her resurrection: "And it was known throughout Joppa, and many believed in the Lord."

This episode occurred nearly two thousand years ago, but the force of the woman's character is still felt. Because all over the world, since that time groups of women have met and sewed with their own hands making garments to cover the poor. And they have banded together under the name of the Dorcas Society.

Dorcas would necessarily have been loved and honored for the splendid life she led after her conversion to Christianity and for the real help she gave to others around her. But it would be interesting to know just how many of thousands of poor have been saved from suffering on account of the many women who have worked and sewed as a result of following the example of this noble woman of early Christian times. And so her name has come down to us with a double value—not only for her life, but for the influence which that life exerted for centuries after her death.

Fashion Frills

The longest waisted bodice in the world appears on some of the new afternoon gowns seen in Paris today. It extends from the neck to a point below the hips, and is very slim and straight. Sometimes it is encircled by three sashes.

Bright green and red are being used in Paris sparingly—on certain black and white costumes. The red is almost cerise, the green a clear jade.

A madras shaped turban of black satin is edged with cherry-colored "picot" straw and an ornament of the straw is in the center of the hat. From the peaked crown hangs a little black tulle veil embroidered with cherry dots.

A Style Becoming to Matron and Flapper Alike Seems Quite Certain to Be Popular

By FLORENCE CLARK

WHEN you first heard of the new spring dresses with the ever-recurrent phrase "straight lines" used in describing them you probably said to yourself, "Well, that's that." But as the season advances it is evident that there are more ways than one to vary the straight line. There's the new tunic dress, for instance. It is certainly straight, but still with so much character to it that it can scarcely be classed as simply another straight-line dress. It stands out as a distinct style, not merely a reflection of the straight lines which continue in favor.

A few seasons ago, if you remember, the tunic dress was very popular. Then it suddenly lost its hold on feminine fancy, and while the chemise dress was still good, the tunic seemed to be positively passé. Girls tried all sorts of ways to conceal the former character of their discarded frocks. They added bands and inserted pieces of contrasting fabric, and sometimes with success. Now the tunic dress has come along again to add interest to the spring collection of garments.

There is little doubt that it will be as well liked as it was in the past. The tunic is becoming to the matron and flapper alike. Both will consider it in choosing a gown, for the dash that it carries with it is undeniably smart. Now shorter dresses are being worn, the tunic, if it be of the right length, lends an admirable proportion to the dress of a gown. And that is what one seeks, consciously or unconsciously—well thought out lines and intelligently planned balance. The length of a tunic varies according to the general character of the whole thing. One type of gown may demand a short tunic ending just below the hips, while another may require a long tunic for the ultimate good of the design. All lengths are seen and each is smart in its own way.

Made in Many Materials.

The tunic frock is making its appearance in woolen materials such as broadcloth, alpaca and tricorne; in silks printed and plain and in various novelty mixtures adaptable to the plain lines of this newest revival of fashion. The simple boyish styles are banded with contrasting materials at the bottom of the tunic, but some of the more ornate gowns have bands of embroidery around the edge. One showing elaborate Chinese embroidery has the slashed sides of the tunic laced with cord from which tassels hang below the hemline.

If you like to wear beads and odd looking shawls, a most individual costume may be worked out with the tunic dress as its basis. In that case it is simply a background for the beautiful coloring of a shawl or a necklace. One girl who likes the unusual in dress has several tunic dresses and most of her wardrobe is selected to harmonize with them. One frock is of black moire with a straight, unbelled tunic extending below the hips. It has a high neckband of a shawl with covered buttons and long light sleeves. The skirt has an inverted pleat at either side.

With these dresses she wears gay scarfs or necklaces of colored stones such as jade or carnelian. Of course it is distinctly a personality costume and should only be attempted by the girl who knows that it suits her type.

The dress in the photograph is a trim tunic model of black and white striped shirting silk. It is a splendid dress for all-round useful wear. Usefulness in this case being augmented by chic and elan. Look at the neat little jabot ruffling from shoulder to waistline and becoming fold of white silk at the throat. Several crystal buttons are placed at the left side, marking the waistline suggested by an extension on the front portion of the costume which is carried well around toward the back. Crystal buttons fasten the cuffs and an unexpected touch of frivolity is added to this dignified frock by the flap of white and black silk embroidery seen on the right side. It covers a tiny pocket which might be used to accommodate a fob or a big silk handkerchief.

A conspicuous feature of the dress pictured is its material. Striped silk like that which fashionable men's shirts is going to be worn a great deal when the time comes to put away wraps and appear in lighter garb. Sport dresses.

DIRECTOIRE SHAPES
APPEAR IN NEW HATS

By JANET WINSLOW.

THE trend of spring hats has taken on an entirely fresh aspect. After many faint attempts to launch certain nameless models and shapes, the designers have decided to stick to adaptations of period styles. The Directoire type is most favored and most beautiful. Tricorne hats take every form and variety to enhance the already established tailored mode with their unequalled trimness and dash. They seem the fitting complement for the snug, compact smartness of the new dresses and suits. Originally based on the cloche, we find them sleek and close fitting with neat small brims and appropriate cordarcs.

The tricorne illustrated is a fair sample of the unevenly brimmed little model with compact trimming and a completely tailored skirt. It is constructed of black satin and straw cloth for the under side of the brim. The three sides of the brim are of uneven size, the right side being very low with a daring sweep over the eye, entirely hiding it from view. The ribbon and gold braid cordarcs are surprisingly large when studied singly but are still in perfect keeping with the rest of the hat, as it follows so closely the head lines. This hat is quite the proper thing to wear with a simple tailored dress, whether it be of heavy material or silk. It is also very wonderful

Of Masculine Materials.

On one sports dress of yellow and white striped silk a large rectangular panel covered the entire front. The panel is outlined with a stripe and smaller squares inclose other still smaller box-like arrangements of stripes. No other material is used at all, the stripes forming the sole decoration.

English broadcloth, which is also much used for men's shirts, is another fabric that will be employed for women's clothes. This season it would seem that masculine styles are appealing very strongly to the gentler sex. There are mannish suits and top coats and now it is promised that shirting silks will be used in abundance for summer dresses.

The jabot, which is seen on the frock pictured, is used to good advantage on many of the newest spring gowns. Now that the higher neckline is assured of a place in the sun, the jabot naturally suggests itself as an upturning note to be overlooked.

Other Directoire types are as smart and glorious as the tricorne. There is the small bonnet effect, usually trimmed with huge bows of plaided or striped ribbon in unusual materials. The bows are placed in the most unexpected spots, thereby vastly adding to the unique shapes and colors. Some high stovepipe-like crowns vie for competition, with the skull-fitting ones and prove their existence as things of beauty by their ancestry, the riding hat of long ago. Little bonnets of unbelievable closeness boast tiny downturned bands and little unexpected bows, and make up for their lack of size with most astounding color in new spring fresh tones.

The period influence has spread itself to hats of large dimensions and more delicate trimmings. Even flowers are allowed if treated in a sufficiently restrained manner and made to match in feeling the ideas of the day.

MEDITATIONS
—OF A—

MARRIED WOMAN

By HELEN ROWLAND

THE kiss that lasts only a moment may be the kiss that lasts a lifetime!

Nothing is equal to a man's chagrin when he discovers that the pretty ankle he has been surreptitiously admiring all evening belongs to his own wife.

Last Words of Great Husbands.

HENRY VIII.

(With apologies to Josephine Daskam Bacon.)

My wives! They never UNDERSTOOD me!

I asked them that, "Be a little blind—

And not so fussy!" But I never could refuse

A woman anything—not even marriage.

Unreasonable! What's a kiss or two?

My wives! If they had closed their eyes, they might Have lived—and died, poor ladies, with their HEADS on!

A man may forgive a woman for being wittier than he is; he may even admire her for it; but no man ever loved her for it!

A married woman spends lots of time musing on her "might-have-beens," but when a married man gazes pensively at his wife, he is far more apt to be musing on his "NEEDN'T-have-beens."

Do your own proposing, if you must, Diana—but, for a man, it takes all the thrill out of hunting to have the bird come right up and stick its little head in the muzzle of the gun.

When a bachelor marries he ceases to make a lot of women happy by making love to them, and begins making one woman unhappy by forgetting to make love to her.

In his child-like simplicity, a man always mistakes a woman's indifference for invulnerability; if she won't kiss him, he argues, she wouldn't kiss ANYBODY.

The trouble is not only that a man runs out of patience, in teaching his wife to drive the car, but he runs out of inventiveness.

WHAT MOTHERS SHOULD KNOW

How Toys Affect the Health.

By DR. CHARLOTTE C. WEST

WITH the tremendous multiplication of children's playthings, good and bad—indeed, so bad are some that they are exceeding harmful to the health of your children—scarcely has taken a hand in the matter and has discovered that toys can be something more than mere playthings; also that some toys have a very bad effect upon the mind and entire nervous system of so delicate an organism as that of a little child.

To begin with, toys should be beautiful as well as useful. They should stimulate the child's imagination, as well as train him to do something. For this reason mechanical toys are utterly useless, and in place, for instance, of a "chuck" car that goes mechanically, you should provide a toy that must be put together, so bringing into play the child's mental powers.

A doll house that is all furnished and fixed up gives your little girl no opportunity to develop her natural instincts toward creating a home and little ones. Provide the materials and let her use her ingenuity and maternal impulses.

Ugly, vulgar, rude pictures and toys, such as unnatural or grotesque animals, highly colored and painted playthings, besides inflaming a child's imagination and making a lasting impression upon his sensitive brain cells may also affect his health through the digestive tract, as the first thing a little child does is to put it to his mouth.

The toy age begins at three months, when baby should be provided with a pair of celluloid bunnies. His interest increases and is active from 2 to 10 years. During these years the child's education, mental and physical growth may be tremendously stimulated by the judicious selection of proper playthings.

Other dangerous toys are those which have sharp edges, corners or points. Unhygienic: those that are not washable, have paint or dye that runs. Avoid, besides, those that give harsh, metallic, jangling sounds; ugly, ill-proportioned shapes, harsh and inharmonious colors; ugly, slumping or unwholesome expressions in dolls and animals.

with a tailored suit and vivid scarf. Small tricorne on the order of the one described are just as distinguished-looking when made of milan or felt. It seems that the felt hat will carry on all through the spring, as it is so adaptable for the closely modeled shapes. There are as many adaptations of the tricorne shape as there have been of the cloche. The remarkable flare and audacity of the hat, combined with its general becomingness, is sure to win over the hearts of all those who have decided to wear clothes pure and simple for the rest of their lives. Being built on the same foundation of utter snugness as the cloche, the tricorne merely adds new stories to a shape which will certainly go down in history as one of the typical headresses worn by the American woman in the twentieth century.

Fish Dishes Pleasing To Spring

By Jeannette Y. Marshall

DURING the long months of winter, when the weather is so cold and the days are so short, it is a good idea to have a few fish dishes on the table. They are not only delicious, but they are also very easy to prepare.

Another point to remember is that fish is a very healthy food. It is full of vitamins and minerals, and it is also very low in calories.

There is nothing more delicious than a fresh fish dish. It is a real treat, and it is also very easy to prepare. Just follow the recipes in this article, and you will be able to make some of the best fish dishes in the world.

But, for a man, it is a real treat. It is a real treat, and it is also very easy to prepare. Just follow the recipes in this article, and you will be able to make some of the best fish dishes in the world.

THE WOMAN OF IT

By MARGUERITE MOOERS MARSHALL

MAXIMS OF A MODERN MAID

LOVE is a butterfly on the wing; marriage is a butterfly caught, chloroformed and placed on exhibition—dead.

Considering the number of men jealous of a successful woman, and the number of unsuccessful women convinced that every man's hand is against them, the so-called impersonal business world assays as a pretty personal cosmos after all.

Since life consists of very many little moments and very few great ones, the average woman, when she evinces a preference for superficial charm instead of solid virtue, is but seeking the greatest good for the greatest number.

A man's egotism is like the common or garden sweet pea: the more rigorously a woman chops it back the more vigorously it insists on flowering.

Why a wife grows old faster than her husband? Because Sunday is his day of rest and her day of preparing the week's most elaborate meal, of keeping the children at home and reasonably quiet, of "spontaneously" entertaining all the people "out with the car, and we thought we'd just take a chance on finding you."

That radio widow who complained that her husband spent his time listening to the wild air waves instead of to her didn't know her luck. Most husbands make their wives listen, too!

In these days of sentimental studio soirees, romantic road houses, passionate parking parties, home is merely where the START is!

Then uncover it and look the salmon, basting it often. Have ready a good caper sauce. Dip the salmon on a hot dish and pour the sauce over it, garnishing with sprays of fresh watercress. Baked potatoes and baked tomatoes are good with this dish. Steamed clams or a simple soup may be used first. A rather sharp salad of cucumbers and lettuce or tomatoes and lettuce with a good French dressing may follow the fish, and a brown Betty pudding with hard sauce or a prune pudding is a suitable dessert.

EGGLESS GEMS.
1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup graham flour
1-2 package dates
1 1/2 cups milk
3 tablespoons melted butter or other fat.
This recipe makes 12 muffins. Mix flour, baking powder and salt together. Add graham flour and dates and mix thoroughly. Add milk and butter slowly, stirring constantly. Pour into greased muffin pans and bake in moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes.

Some people with great merit are disgusting—others with great faults are agreeable.

The virtues are lost in interest as rivers are lost in the sea.

What to Serve : Tomorrow :

Breakfast.
Canned peaches
Cereal
Omelet
Toast
Coffee, cocoa, milk
Luncheon.
White cherry-cream cheese sandwich
Chocolate eclairs
Coffee, tea, milk
Dinner.
Baked salmon croquettes
Creamed corn
Mashed potatoes
Pear-cheese salad
Caramel custard
Coffee, tea, milk

NOTES ABOUT WOMEN

Gwendolyn Edmonstone, granddaughter of Marshall Field, Chicago merchant, has relinquished her American citizenship in order to avoid paying both the American and British income taxes on her fortune.

One of the biggest turkey raisers in Massachusetts is a woman—Miss Margaret Mahoney, of Concord, who, when ill-health prevented her from following her ambition to become a doctor, took up turkey raising as a diversion and which rapidly grew into a lucrative business.

Doris Wittner and other German women leaders are seeking to have German women appointed to the diplomatic service the same as men.

When she was awarded $1000 as the winner of a beauty contest, Miss Nancy Rose, Sheffield, England, immediately purchased a farm.

DATE MUFFINS.
Cream one-third cup of butter or substitute, add gradually one-fourth cup of sugar, stirring constantly. Add one egg beaten until thick and lemon-lime. Sift together two cups of flour, one-fourth teaspoon of salt and four teaspoons of baking powder; add to the first mixture alternately with three-fourths cup of rich milk. Turn into well-greased, hot muffin tins and bake in a moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes.

A man swallowed his false teeth. Jumping from his bed, he went into the bathroom, where he found them in the toilet. The family rushed him to the doctor and everybody was in a hysteria of excitement. About that time a messenger arrived with the pleasing information that the teeth had been found under the bed, where the owner had placed them on retiring!

The X-ray settles all these questions. It determines with unfailing accuracy the presence and place of the foreign body. Then with the bronchoscope, if the object is in the lung, it can be seen and the skilled doctor can remove it.

Ordinarily a foreign substance in the throat can be expelled by giving the back of the victim a smart slap with the palm of the hand. If the patient is a child he can be held by the heels. The inverted position gives gravity a chance to remove it.

Fortunately, such accidents are uncommon. In rare cases only do bad effects follow.

YOUR HEALTH
UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM NEW YORK
FORMER COMMISSIONER OF HEALTH, NEW YORK CITY

A MONTH or so ago everybody in America was stirred because from St. Louis a baby boy was being rushed across the continent for medical aid. The infant had swallowed a steel tack. It went the wrong way, entered the windpipe and was sucked down into the lungs.

Such an accident in older days would have resulted in death. It is different now. Modern invention has been applied to lots of hopeless conditions and today there is every prospect of relief from many of them.

Among the ingenious devices for dealing with such cases is the "bronchoscope." This is a delicate, flexible, electric-lighted instrument which can be inserted into the throat and passed down into the windpipe. Through it can be seen the offending substance in the upper part of the lung, and with delicate, long shanked forceps the object can be caught and removed.

Needless to say it takes great skill and experience to manipulate such an instrument. It is not in the hands of every doctor, but if he does not specialize in cases where the bronchoscope is needed, your doctor will know where to send you for relief.

Modern instruments have done marvelous things for the human family. For instance, the X-ray is of the greatest value in cases where foreign bodies have been swallowed, or have been thought to be swallowed. The X-ray pictures will determine the presence of and locate the offending object. Perhaps you saw the picture, carried by many newspapers recently, of a small crucifix crowded into the gullet of a sufferer, who was too frightened to describe the accident.

In the terrible fright of the victim of such a mishap he may have spasmodic agonies of pain, vomiting and other violent symptoms. That these are sometimes caused by emotion purely is shown by a classical case recorded in the doctor books.

Children's Bedtime Story

By Thornton W. Burgess

At Last.

Joy's fullness is for him alone
Who fear and trouble long has known.

—Old Mother Nature.

A LL day the great man-bird, carrying Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse and their family, had been in the air. Strangely excited were Danny and Nanny. They couldn't have told you why, but they were possessed of a feeling that something was going to happen. What it was they didn't know, but they were sure that something was going to happen. And something did. It was one of the greatest happenings in their lives.

Late in the afternoon the great man-bird began to go down. At length the noise of the engine stopped. Down, down, down, the great man-bird glided, and presently it came to rest gently. There was a shout from outside. It made the heart of Danny Meadow Mouse leap. It was strangely familiar, was that voice. There was an answering shout from the aviator, and then the latter hastily climbed out of the airplane. Danny could wait no longer. He scrambled out and up where he could see. Farmer Brown's Boy and the aviator were shaking hands! They were back on the Green Meadows where they had started from!

Danny took one good long look, then he scurried back to the little cupboard, which had so long been their home. "Nanny! Nanny!" he squeaked. "Oh, Nanny! It's true, it's true!"

"What is true?" squeaked Nanny rather sharply. "For goodness' sake, Danny Meadow Mouse, what is the matter with you? Are you crazy?"

Danny certainly was acting as if he were crazy. He was whirling around and around as if trying to catch that funny stub of a tail of his. "No, I'm not crazy!" he squeaked. "I'm not crazy! It's true! Oh, Nanny, were you ever so glad to see your life?"

Nanny Meadow Mouse was losing patience. She grabbed hold of Danny roughly and shook him. "Now tell me what all this nonsense is about," she demanded.

"Why, we're home!" squeaked Danny. "We're back on the Green Meadows right at the edge of Farmer Brown's cornfield. We are!"

But Nanny didn't wait to hear anything more. She darted out of that little cupboard and scrambled up where she could see for herself. It was true. There was the familiar old cornfield on one side and the beautiful Green Meadows on the other side. The latter had been brown when she saw them last, but now they were already green. The old scarecrow in the cornfield was no longer there and the ground had been plowed. But she knew it was the same field.

Farmer Brown's Boy and the aviator, who was his cousin, as you may remember, were so busy talking that they paid no attention to the airplane. So they didn't see seven little gray forms climb up and out on the farther side of the great man-bird. They were Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse and their five nearly grown children, who had been born in the great man-bird way down in the Sunny South.

If You Have Never Worn a Paris Dress—You Don't Know How Pretty You Can Be

Design 5115

Only $4.75 with the Deltor

A dress as lovely as any imported frock in a Fifth Avenue window! For this dress that shows the peasant influence Paris is so charmed with, for size 36 you need only 8 yards of 39" material and 11 yards of contrasting 39" material—if you use the Deltor's individual cutting layout. At $1.00 the yard that's $4.75 for material! And you have a dress you couldn't buy for three times the price!

Saves you Real Money

The Deltor tells you exactly how much material to buy and what kinds the dress looks best in. It gives you a special individual cutting layout, not just one or two general cutting charts as ordinary patterns do, but a cutting layout for your size and view laid out on your width material. It truly saves you money on everything you make. Besides showing you just how to lay out and cut your dress, the Deltor tells you exactly how to put it together, what color combinations are most fashionable, and most important of all just how to give your dress the real French finishing touches you see on imported models.

Easier than any Other Way

Making dresses with the Deltor is easier than you ever thought possible—and more exciting. This spring and summer you can have new dress after new dress—you make them so quickly with the Deltor and they cost you so little! And each one so perfect that it makes you lovelier than ever.

Wear a real Paris dress the next place you go—get a Butterick pattern and follow the Deltor. You will be amazed at how inexpensive and successful your clothes are! Butterick, New York, Paris, London.

Design 5095

Only $11.38

The Paris cape dress in size 36 takes only 14 yards of 39" silk for the body and 14 yards of 54" will for skirt and cape when you cut it out with the Deltor. At $3.50 the yard that's $11.38 for material—and you have a real Paris dress!

That's a pretty dress. How much did you pay for it?

"$33.34 down, and a dollar a year for the rest of my life."

That is not an improbable conversation, for when you spend money you spend the interest which that money would earn for you. $33.34 deposited in a Mercantile savings account would earn $1 the first year and even more as the years went by, because it would be compounded semi-annually at 3%.

This is not a plea for you to quit spending money, but the fact that you continue to pay for the things you buy long after they are worn out is a strong plea for you to save money—by wise spending. We invite you to open a Mercantile savings account.

ONE OF THOSE TIRESOME TOPICS.

THERE is a convivial individual of my acquaintance who lives in Westchester County, New York. In addition to his social habits he is renowned for being the possessor of a quick mind and a gifted tongue.

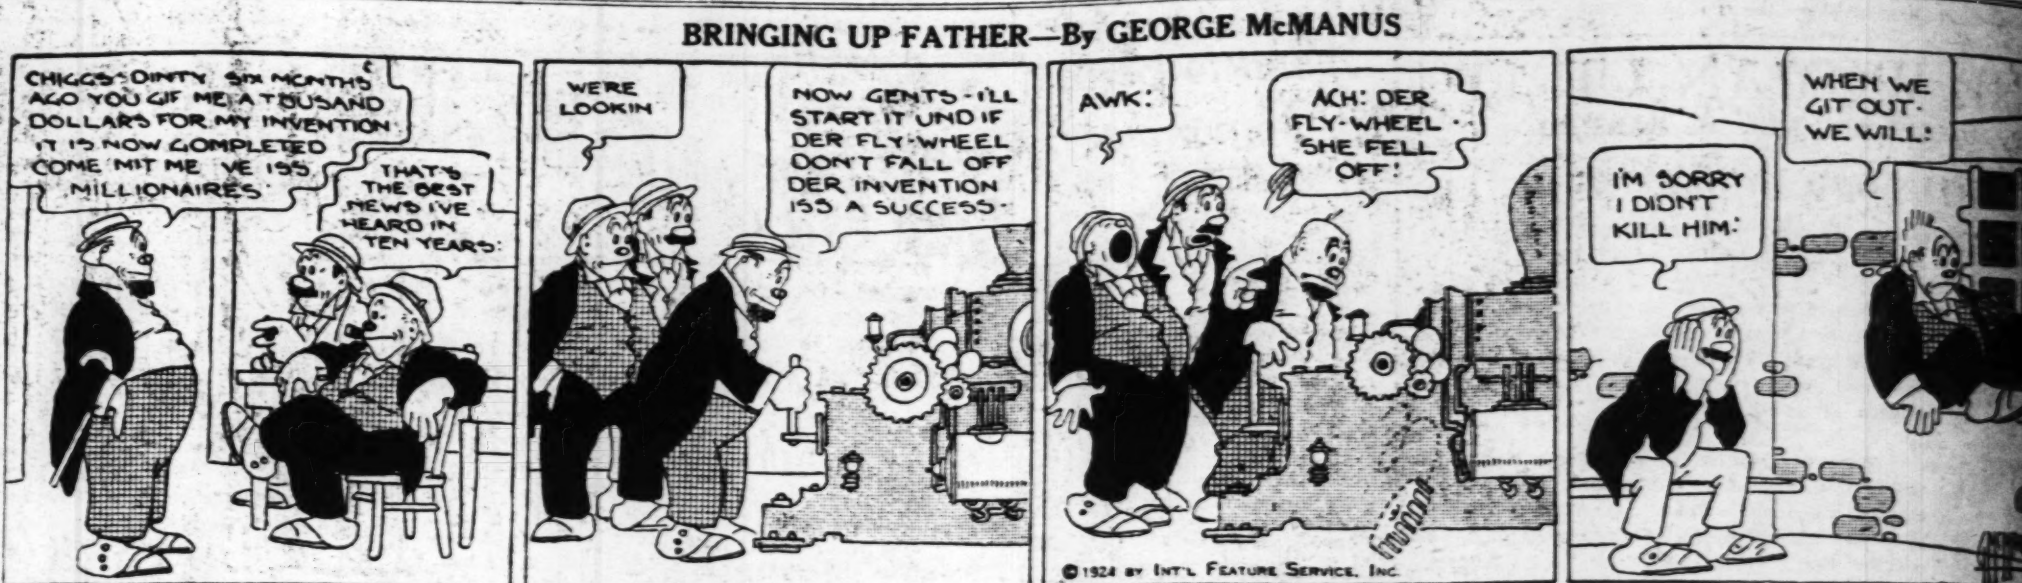

One summer afternoon late, he alighted from the train at his station in a fairly illuminated condition. As his car bore him homeward, he observed a gang of artisan-well diggers drilling in the rocky soil on a home site which a city man recently had purchased. He bade the chauffeur halt.

"What are you fellows doing?" he asked.

"Boring for water," answered the foreman.

"Water's a bore at any time," stated the wag, and resumed his homeward journey.

MAN SLAIN WHILE WITH WOMAN IN HER AUTOMOBILE

Divorcee Tells of Jesting Suggestion That Coin Be Tossed to Determine Who Should Shoot.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 12.—A story of a gamble with death was told by Mrs. Belva Brown Garger, divorcee, in whose automobile Walter R. Law, an automobile salesman and married, was found dead today with a bullet wound through the head.

They had eaten and had had drinks in a cafe prior to the shooting, Mrs. Garger said, and she did not remember all that had happened. She is under arrest.

"On our way home we got to talking about holdup men," she told the police, "and I jokingly remarked that 'I bet I am a better shooter than you are.'"

"He declared that he was a wonderful marksman. Still joking, I suggested that we toss a coin and that the winner shoot the loser. If the winner missed, the other could have a chance to shoot the winner. There were nine bullets in the revolver—but I don't know what happened."

The revolver, the police say, belonged to Mrs. Garger. There are bruises on Law's cheek and hand, a broken crystal in her wristwatch, and bloodstains on his gloves and clothing, the police say, indicating some kind of a struggle.

The body of Law was found crumpled in the car. From its license number the police learned the car belonged to Mrs. Garger. They found her somewhat hysterical at her home two blocks away.

Mrs. Garger, a former cabaret singer known as Belle Brown, twice has been divorced. After being divorced a few years ago from William Garger, wealthy manufacturer of scientific instruments, she married a chauffeur and operated her automobile as a taxi.

The automobile in which Law was slain, recently was sold to her by Law, and her former husband, Garger, is said to have made the sale payment on it. Garger said he had maintained friendly relations with his former wife after the divorce.

A bottle, which the police say had contained gin, was found in the car.

DIES FOLLOWING AN INJURY SUFFERED IN BALL GAME

Sam of Alderman Fell During Indoor Game, Bruising Hip, and Meningitis Developed.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:34 Gravois avenue, for Harry Uhlemeyer, 16 years old, 2354A Lafayette avenue, son of alderman Harry W. Uhlemeyer of the Fifteenth Ward, who died Thursday at St. John's Hospital from meningitis, following an injury suffered in a ball game.

A week ago, when the boy, who was captain of an indoor baseball team at the Bryan Mullempy school, was holding a bat over his head at the school gymnasium, he fell and bruised his hip. Two days later an infection set in and although an operation was performed in an effort to keep the disease from spreading, meningitis developed.

Post Until Information Connects Him With
"Protected Beer" ScandalCONFERENCE HELD IN KANSAS CITYHeber Nations' Name Was Brought Into Case in Statement by Brother,
Gus, After Raid on Brewery on Feb. 21.Gov. Hyde will allow State Labor Commissioner Heber Nations to remain in office for the present, he announced in Kansas City this afternoon after a long conference there with that official.If, later, information is presented to him connecting Commissioner Nations with the "protected beer" scandal in St. Louis, the question of Nations' successor will be taken up immediately, the Governor said, as Nations, a holdover official, can be removed by the Governor at will.The showdown between Hyde and Nations, originally scheduled to have been held here today, was transferred to Kansas City at Nations' request. Nations went there last night after it had been announced from authoritative administration sources that Hyde had determined to fire the Labor Commissioner unless he resigned.In deciding to keep Nations in the State administration for the present, Hyde said that David Nations, chief of the Intelligence Unit Federal Internal Revenue Department, here, had said that he had no information involving Commissioner Nations. In this he was according to a statement published in the Globe-Democrat this morning, and which Nations has largely disowned. In a formal statement elsewhere in this paper.The text of the Governor's statement follows: "David Nations, head of the Government investigators of the Griseled brewery case, now states that he has no information involving and no charges against Mr. Heber Nations. That being the case, there is nothing for me to consider."The term of office for which Mr. Nations was appointed has expired. He is holding his office as State Labor Commissioner pending the appointment of his successor.
The office will be left in that situation. In the event any information is later received, or any charges later made against him involving him in the alleged protection of the brewery, the question of his successor will immediately be decided."Nations, in his talk with the Governor, declared that the charges were part of a political plot to remove his brother, Gus Nations, chief of the field forces of Federal Prohibition Enforcement Department in Missouri, and to wreck the Hyde administration.
Nations' prepared statement, which he issued here last night, elaborated this declaration. He declared, in giving out the statement, that he would not resign under fire.The Governor refused to make any comment when asked whether he believed his political enemies were using the beer scandal to discredit his administration, so as to permit them to gain control of the Republican delegation to the Cleveland convention. Recently the Coolidge administration gave commissioners.

HOME TOWN STUFF.

ST. LOUIS and I shall never part. Her social atmosphere Has warmed the cockles of my heart. Though stockyards may be near. —A. D. M.

MAPLEWOOD.

Other towns are not so good. I'd rather live in Maplewood. The "soft drink" parlors are all closed. The burg's so clean you'd think it hosed.

I'd not choose Webster if I could. I'd rather live in Maplewood. —Gordon Jones.

WEBSTER.

In Webster Groves, the Suburbs' Queen. The best of folks are to be seen.

They've all come out from St. Louis, Mo.—

I wonder now, what made them go. —J. W. D.

In St. Louis, Mo., they toil and hustle And then avoid the noise and bustle skipping daily to the county To revel there in Nature's bounty.

TOO TRUE.

The City harbor boat has had its name changed three times. Now they are trying to change it again and make it Mud.

See where the Board of Aldermen has sent the smoke bill back to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. And the smoke goes up the chimney just the same.

QUITE SO.

THE K. K. K. is out, they say. To put the ban on liquor. And likewise show the proper way To put the Slick in slicker.

NOT SO FAST.

Scandals are cropping out so fast in Washington that they are beginning to overlap. One at a time, gents.

We are about three scandals behind in our reading now. Have a heart.

With the best jazz band in either league and George Sisler and Marty McManus singing first and second base respectively we don't see how the Browns are going to be stopped.

"More Should Be Spent in Advertising City."

And cut out all that sky-writing with soft coal smoke.

The man on the sandbox says girls born on the 29th of February can celebrate their birthdays with impunity.

We will now have a few Senate Investigating Committees investigating the Senate Investigating Committees.

In the meantime the Bok committee doesn't seem to be functioning. What seems to be the trouble, gents?

Sir Auckland Geddes says that if he were an American he would be a prohibitionist. But being what he is what is he?

ONE OF THOSE TIRESOME TOPICS.

THERE is a convivial individual of my acquaintance who lives in Westchester County, New York. In addition to his social habits he is renowned for being the possessor of a quick mind and a gifted tongue.

One summer afternoon late, he alighted from the train at his station in a fairly illuminated condition. As his car bore him homeward, he observed a gang of artesian-well diggers drilling in the rocky soil on a home site which a city man recently had purchased. He bade the chauffeur halt.

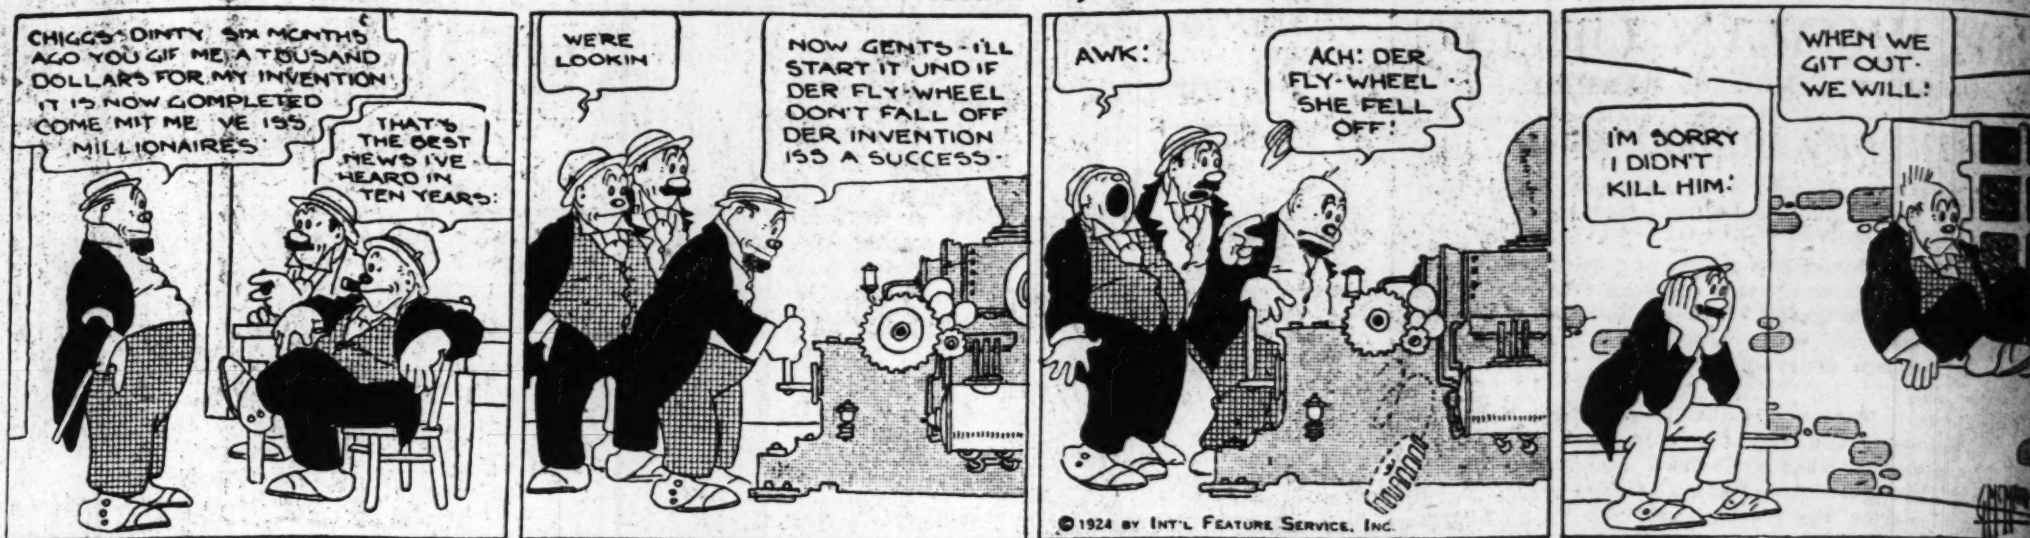

"What are you fellows doing?" he asked.

"Boring for water," answered the foreman.

"Water's a bore at any time," stated the wag, and resumed his homeward journey.

Divorce Tells of Jeating Suggestion That Coin Be Tossed to Determine Who Should Shoot.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 12.—A story of a gamble with death was told by Mrs. Belva Brown Garger, divorcee, in whose automobile Walter R. Law, an automobile salesman and married, was found dead today with a bullet wound through the head.

They had eaten and had had drinks in a cafe prior to the shooting, Mrs. Garger said, and she did not remember all that had happened. She is under arrest.

"On our way home we got to talking about holdup men," she told the police, "and I jokingly remarked that 'I bet I am a better shooter than you are.'"

"He declared that he was a wonderful marksman. Still joking, I suggested that we toss a coin, and that the winner shoot the loser. If the winner missed, the other could have a chance to shoot the winner.
There were nine bullets in the revolver—but I don't know what happened."

The revolver, the police say, belonged to Mrs. Garger. There are bruises on Law's cheek and hand, a broken crystal in her wristwatch, and bloodstains on his gloves and clothing, the police say, indicating some kind of a struggle.

The body of Law was found crumpled in the car. From his license number the police learned the car belonged to Mrs. Garger.
They found her somewhat hysterical at her home two blocks away.

Mrs. Garger, a former cabaret singer known as Belle Brown, twice has been divorced. After being divorced a few years ago from William Garger, wealthy manufacturer of schedule instruments, she donned knickers and announced she would be a chauffeur and operate her automobile as a taxicab.

The automobile in which Law was slain, recently was sold to her by Law, and her former husband, Garger, is said to have made the first payment on it. Garger said he had maintained friendly relations with his former wife after the divorce.

A bottle, which the police say had contained gin, was found in the car.

DIES FOLLOWING AN INJURY SUFFERED IN BALL GAME

Run of Alderman Fell During Indoor Game, Bruising Hip, and Meningitis Developed.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 3:34 Gravois avenue for Harry Uhlmeier, 10 years old, 2556A Lafayette avenue, son of Alderman Harry W. Uhlmeier

of the Fifteenth Ward, who died yesterday at St. John's Hospital from meningitis, following an injury suffered in a ball game.
A week ago, when the boy, who was captain of an indoor baseball team, at the Bryan Mullanphy School, was fielding a batted ball in the school gymnasium, he fell and bruised his hip. Two days later an infection set in and although an operation was performed in an effort to keep the disease from spreading, meningitis developed.

In Airtight Vault 45 Minutes.

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, March 12.—Imprisoned in an airtight vault by two armed robbers, Clayton Webb, manager of the City Savings and Loan Co. branch office in East Cleveland, was carried out unconscious today after 45 minutes in which he faced death by suffocation. From the vault and cash drawer in his cage the robbers took approximately $100 and escaped.
They overlocked $2500. Webb was quickly revived.
